PRESIDENT SCORES REPUBLICANS FOR CHARGING THAT DEMOCRATIC PARTY IS ONE OF SECTIONALISM

"Any Man Who Revives the Issue of Sectionalism [illegible] Country is Unworthy of the Confidence of the Nation," He Declares, and Continuing His Speech Asserts That S[illegible]arge "Is the Depth of Anti-Patriotic Feeling."

MR. WILSON GREETED AT INDIANAPOLIS BY GREAT CROWDS WHICH PACKED THE STREETS FOR BLOCKS

Delivers Two Addresses Before Good Roads Advocates and Farmers, Reviews Automobile Parade and Attends Non-Partisan Lunch of Leading Indianians—Discusses Legislation Passed in Favor of the Farmers.

Indianapolis, Ind., October 12. — President Wilson today replied to the Republican charge that the Democratic party is a sectional party with the statement that "any man who revives the issue of sectionalism in this country is unworthy of the confidence of the Nation."

The President came to Indianapolis to address meetings of good roads advocates and farmers, review an automobile parade celebrating good roads day of the Indiana centennial, and attend a non-partisan lunch of leading Indianians. He was seen by crowds which packed the streets for blocks. In his first set speech he spoke of the good done by highways in preventing sectionalism.

"My fellow citizens," he continued, "I need not tell you that I did not come here to talk politics, but there is one thing that is pertinent in this connection, which I cannot deny myself the privilege of saying. Any man who revives the issue of sectionalism in this country is unworthy of the confidence of the Nation. He shows himself a provincial, he shows that he himself does not know the various sections of his own country; he shows that he has shut his own heart up in a little province, and that those who do not seek the special interests of that province are to him sectional, while he alone is national.

"That is the depth of anti-patriotic feeling."

Speaks at Fair Grounds.

President Wilson delivered his first address at the fair grounds and also spoke briefly at a luncheon given him by Governor and Mrs. Samuel M. Ralston, of Indiana.

The second set speech was devoted to a discussion of the work of the Democratic administration for the farmers of the nation.

The President left here this afternoon for Long Branch, N. J., where he will arrive tomorrow afternoon.

President Wilson in his good roads speech, said in part:

"I am here because of my interest in the cause of good roads and because of my interest in the state of Indiana.

"It is perfectly obvious that you have got to have an intricate and perfect net-work of roads throughout the length and breadth of this great continent before you will have released the energies of America. Good roads are necessary for every practical aspect of our lives, to draw neighborhoods together, to create community of feeling.

Binds a Nation Together.

"And so the argument, the material argument, the argument about markets and crops and the products of the mines, sink into relative unimportance when you consider the spiritual thing that you are doing in making roads. The only thing that binds a nation together is the knowledge of its several parts of each other."

Mr. Wilson here referred to the issue of sectionalism.

"And that is my interest in good roads, for, my fellow citizens, my present interest is chiefly in the nationalization of America.

"And therefore the thing that I am more interested in than anything else in these days is the forces that make for drawing America together into a great spiritual unit.

"Now, my fellow citizens, we have had time and opportunity until the present to do pretty much what we wanted in America and to do different things in different parts of America. But just as soon as this great European war is over, America has got to stand for one thing and only one thing in the world, and she must be ready with united force.

"So the words I want you to carry in your mid in connection with this good roads cause are these:

The Three Words.

"First, Nationalization, getting all the fibres of this great vital people united in a single organism; second, mobilization, getting them so related to each other, so co-ordinated, so organized, so united, that when they move, they move as a single great irresistible conquering force. And the third word that I want you to consider is the word that I suppose affords the key to doing these things. That word is the word co-operation.

"Instead of exclusive combinations, I want to see universal co-operation.

"There is one field in which we are particularly sluggard in respect of this. I mean the relations between capital and labor. Nothing can be for the interest of capital that is not in the interest of labor; and nothing can be in the interest of labor which is not in the interest of capital. If men want to get rich, they must have human relationships with those who help them to get rich. That is a lesson that men have been exceedingly slow to learn, slower than any other lesson of co-operation in America.

Must Work Together.

"And so, my fellow citizens, you see how this little plant of the cause of good roads spreads into a great tree bearing upon its boughs the fruits of the savor of life. We have got to know each other. We have got to co-operate with each other. We have got to stand together. That is all that politics is for. As a contest for office, it is contemptible but as a combination of thoughtful men to accomplish something for the nation, it is honorable. If I could not be associated with a Congress that did something I would quit.

"Now, 'talking through the hat' ought to be a dead industry. It ought to be discouraged by silence and empty halls; and every man ought to have as a motto over the stage from which he speaks, these simple and familiar words, 'Put up or shut up.'

"I am ready to take my own medicine; if I don't put up, I am ready to shut up.

America's Re-Birth.

"I want to leave a very solemn thought in your minds. America is now about to experience her re-birth.

"I have said and shall say again that when the great present war is over, it will be the duty of America to join with the other nations of the world in some kind of league for the maintenance of peace. Now, America was not a party to this war and the only terms upon which we will be admitted to a league, almost all the other powerful members of which were engaged in the war, and made infinite sacrifices when we apparently made none, are the only terms which we desire, namely, that America shall not stand for national aggression, but shall stand for the just conceptions and basis of peace for the competition of merit alone and for the generous rivalry of liberty.

"So, my fellow countrymen, build upon these new roads in the construction of which the Federal government is now to play so large a part, the spirit of nationality, the spirit of co-operation, the spirit of liberty, the power which only a free people knows how to exercise."

MAKES ADDRESS BEFORE A GATHERING OF FARMERS

Indianapolis, Ind., October 12. — In his second speech before a gathering of farmers here, President Wilson said in part:

"It is clearly the legitimate function, if it be not the clear duty, of the Federal government, to see that instruction in scientific agriculture is widespread, as it is possible to make it but obviously it is also its duty to see that men are trained in other vocations in the mechanical callings, in all those great multiforms of industry which have made this country rich and by reaction have tended to make the farmer himself rich. * * *

"But not only does the agricultural department conduct demonstrations on the farms, but it has lately, within the last three years, undertaken to do what it never did before—acquaint the farmer in detail with his markets, their whereabouts, their prices, the means of access to them, the methods of co-operation which ought to make access easier than it is if there is no co-operation, and has undertaken in a great bureau of markets to guide the businesslike farmer in selling his crops at the greatest advantage and where they are most needed. And along with that has gone the very interesting development of the parcels post, whereby the more perishable kind of farm products can be rapidly shipped and distributed in moderately small quantities."

The President then spoke of the advantages of the Federal Reserve act, the Rural Credits act, the Warehouse act, and the Grain Standards act, saying all have been of an immense benefit to the farmers.

"I do not apparently do much more than sign bills, but I always know what is in them before I sign them and

KINGSTONIAN NOT AMONG SHIPS SUNK

Manager of Leyland Line at Boston Receives Word That Vessel is Safe in Port.

WAS NOT NEAR NANTUCKET

Report From Owners Says Steamer Was Thousands of Miles Away Sunday—Two Allied Vessels Leave Boston.

Boston, Oct. 12.—The British steamer Kingstonian, reported as among those torpedoed by a German submarine off Nantucket last Sunday, is safe in port, according to word received today by John M. Thomas, of this city, local manager of the Leyland Line, which owns the steamer. Mr. Thomas said his information showed that the Kingstonian was thousands of miles from Nantucket last Saturday.

As the Kingstonian is in the service of the British admiralty, Mr. Thomas was not permitted to indicate the port at which she had arrived, but he said that it would take her two weeks of steaming at her usual speed to reach Nantucket, so that it was evident that she was nowhere near the scene of the submarine's operations in these waters last Sunday.

This information serves to confirm the opinion held by marine men here that the report of the Kingstonian's loss arose from a confusion of her name with that of the Christina Knudson. Captain Wilson, of the British steamer Strathdene, another of the ships caught by the submarine, hailed a passing vessel and inquired her name. He understood the reply to be 'Kingston,' and later, after the submarine had torpedoed the same vessel and her crew had taken to their boats, Captain Wilson reported to the Nantucket lightship the loss of the supposed "Kingston." There was no record of any steamer of that name in these waters, but it was thought possible that it might be the Kingstonian.

The first British steamer to leave this port since the appearance of the U-boat was reported, sailed today. She is the Corunna, a coal freighter, bound for Louisburg, C. B. A few hours later the Leyland liner Memphian, with a big cargo, largely grain, sailed for Manchester ,England.

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 12.—E. J. Watson, president of the Southern Cotton Congress, issued a call here today for an extraordinary session of that organization to be held in Norfolk, Va., December 12, at the time of the annual convention of the Southern Commercial Congress.

POLICE AND STRIKERS IN A PITCHED BATTLE

Innocent Bystander Killed and Others Seriously Wounded.

Striking Employees of Standard Oil Company at Bayonne, N. J., Renew Riot Following Wednesday Night's Fight.

Bayonne, N. J., Oct. 12.—One man was killed and at least a score wounded, two of them so seriously they are not expected to live, in a pitched battle here late today between striking employees of the Standard Oil Company and the police. The fight was the culmination of a series of disturbances that began Wednesday and continued throughout last night and today. New Jersey militiamen, back from duty along the Mexican border, who were sworn in as special policemen, aided in dispersing the rioters who were terrorizing the city by looting and burning.

Half a dozen sheds overlooking the oil refineries were set on fire before the authorities were able to restore a semblance of order by firing volleys of rifle and pistol shots into the ranks of the strikers and their sympathizers.

Isidor Natilsky, 22 years old, a lawyer who had no part in the rioting late today, was the man killed. He was shot through the back, it was said, while running from the scene of the battle.

Harris Martin, 19 years old, a bystander, was shot through the right lung and probably will die, according to physicians.

Edward Green, 30 years old, was shot through the left lung. He also probably will die.

Five others are in hospitals suffering from wounds but are expected to recover. The police report that more than a dozen strikers and their sympathizers who were injured were carried to their homes.

As far as could be learned none of the policemen or the militiamen was hurt.

U-BOAT QUESTION NOT TO COME UP IN THE REICHSTAG

Budget Committee Decides Against Discussion of Situation in Open Session.

MAJOR BASSERMANN SPEAKS

Pays Tribute to the German Army and Navy—Other Leaders Are Also Heard.

Berlin, via London, Oct. 13.—The most notable incident at the opening of today's Reichstag session was supplied by Major Bassermann, leader of the National Liberals, in his report from the budget committee, that, although it had been unable to reach a decision on the submarine question, it had voted, 24 to 4, against a discussion of the subject in open session.

Herr Bassermann ran through a short report of the general international situation, emphasizing particularly the Entente's pressure on neutral powers and its efforts to force Greece into the war, in connection with which he expressed admiration for the attitude of King Constantine. He then read the committee's recommendations.

"The committee occupied itself with a thorough discussion of the question of submarine warfare," the report read, "the members of all parties and the representatives of the government participating. All the naval, technical, military, economic and political aspects were thoroughly investigated and weighed.

"An agreement could not be reached in the committee, which therefore refrained from making a decision. The committee recommends that the Reichstag in its deliberations abstain from a discussion of submarine warfare. It bases this attitude upon the standpoint that a thorough discussion of the naval, technical, military, economic and politic details is impossible without injury to the interests of the fatherland but on the other hand that without such thorough discussion the subject could not be completely cleared up."

The recommendation had been adopted by a vote of 24 to 4, the dissenters being conservative and radical socialist committeemen.

Dr. Peter Spahn, leader of the Catholic Center party, followed Herr Bassermann. Germany's attitude toward other countries, particularly America, which were extensively discussed in committee, must be based, said Dr. Spahn, not upon sympathies or antipathies but upon Germany's interests. Philip Scheidemann, socialist, embarked upon a vigorous denunciation of the elements hostile to Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg who for months, he declared, had shrunk from no methods, however base, to overthrow the chancellor and prevent the reforms which he had promised.

Major Bassermann, while avoiding

TO DISCUSS MILITARY COURSE FOR COLLEGES

For Training Reserve Officers for United States Army.

Presidents of Nineteen Colleges and Universities to Meet at Army War College, Washington, October 17.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Presidents of 19 colleges and universities have been called in conference by the War Department preparatory to establishment of systematic methods for training reserve officers for the United States army in those institutions. They will meet at the Army War College here Tuesday, October 17, for discussion with the army general staff of military course to be organized in institutions desiring to take advantage of provisions of the army or reorganization law.

It has been estimated that the army must maintain a corps of 5,000 partially trained junior officers to facilitate organization of an adequate military force, should the nation have war with a power capable of attempting invasion. The main source of supply for these officers would be institutions with approved military courses where military tarining under army officers is part of a student's work. National Guard organizations composed entirely of college students have been mustered out of the Federal service so those men may compose the first increment of reserve officers to be drawn under the new plan.

Officials expected to attend the conference include Dr. J. E. Ray Croft, Princeton; A. Lawrence Lowell, Harvard; Arthur T. Hadley, Yale; John H. Finley, University State of New York; H. B. Hutchins, University of Michigan; George H. Denny, University of Alabama; E. W. Nichols, Virginia Military Institute; Benjamin I. Wheeler, University of California; J. G. Schurman, Cornell University; Edmund J. James, University of Illinois; J. H. Kirkland,

RELIEF APPARENT AMONG OFFICIALS AS TO SUBMARINES

Prolonged Paralysis of American Trade, However, Might Create New Questions.

POLICY YET UNDETERMINED

United States Destroyers Reported on Neutrality Patrol on New England Coast.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Investigatio of Germany's submarine operations off Nantucket apparently has eased the minds of officials here, but it was said authoritativel ytonight that should the situation develop prolonged paralysis of American trade in the Atlantic or any similar injury to vital American interests, a broad issue might be raised transcending the specific questions of international law discussed in connection with the U-boat raid.

Such considerations as the dislocation of shipping along the Atlantic seaboard, the great increase in marine insurance rates and the possibility of serious freight congestion and railroad embargoes have been foremost in the minds of officials, it was indicated, and will determine largely the government's policy if an extensive submarine campaign is attempted on this side of the Atlantic.

One high official expressed the view that the unprecedented situation involves questions which can be considered only in an extra-legal light. He suggested that the narrow and dimly defined stipulations of international law could not be depended on entirely to eme tdevelopments vitally affecting the nation's international interests.

The sinking of the Dutch steamer Bloemerdijk, flying a neutral flag and plying between two neutral ports, is understood to be one of the considerations that has led officials to view with apprehension the future of submarine operations off American shores. What measures Germany may contemplate against neutral trade out of American ports is a matter of lively speculation. Regarding the Bloemerdijk case, specifically, however, the State Department is understood to feel that this government has no cause for complaint. So far the department has made no extensive investigation of the effect of the Nantucket raid on American trade and is expected to consider incident solely on its merits as an individual case in international law. Should such raids continue, however, the resultant restraints on American interests may become a serious consideration.

ITALIANS MAKE GAINS IN DRIVE FOR TRIEST

Additional Points of Vantage Taken From Austrians.

Rumanians Still on Retreat in Transylvania—Allies Score Gains in Macedonia and Also in France.

Another step forward in their quest of Trieste has been made by the Italians in the region south of Gorizia, additional points of vantage to their progress having been captured and 1,771 men made prisoner.

In this region, which is about 16 miles northwest of Trieste, and in the Julian Alps, to the east, the Italians from August 6 to the present report they have captured 30,881 Austrians.

On the Carso plateau heavy Austrian attacks against the positions recently taken by the Italians have been repulsed.

Along the entire eastern Transylvania front the Rumanians are still in retreat and in the north also are beginning to fall back before the troops of the Teutonic allies, according to Berlin. Bucharest says, however, that attacks at various points on their northern and northwestern fronts have been repelled.

The British troops have reached the outskirts of the important town of Seres in Greek Macedonia, north of Lake Tahinos, having driven in their opponents from the outlying districts. London reports that the town is strongly held by the Teutonic allies. Westward the village of Brod, which lies in Serbia, southeast of Monastir, has been captured by the Serbians. Both Berlin and Sofia report the repulse of attacks along the Carnarver and on both sides of the Vardar.

That the British have gained some additional ground north of Thiepval, south of the Ancre river in France and on the Sars-Guedecourt line is indicated in the Berlin official communication, which says British attacks here failed "for the most part" before the German curtain of fire. RECORD CROWD SEES THE RED SOX CLAMP WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP

Ernest Shore Holds Brooklyn Players Helpless in the Final Game of the Series.

HIS DELIVERY DECEPTIVE

Spectators Clothed in Overcoats and Fur Wraps to Shield Them From the Cold.

TOTAL ATTENDANCE, 42,620

Receipts for the Four Games of the Series, $385,590.50.

Boston, October 12. — The Boston Americans firmly clamped the championship laurels of the baseball universe upon their brows here this afternoon, when they defeated the Brooklyn Nationals by a score of 4 to 1, in the fifth and final game of the world's series of 1916. The greatest gathering in the history of the American National sport witnessed the victory, 42,620 fans, departming after the contest convinced them that the Red Sox were the baseball machine par excellence of recent years.

Fifth Victory Since 1903.

As a result of four games to one conquest over the standard bearers of the National League, Boston is tonight celebrating its fifth victory in world's series since 1903 and there is added joy in the fact that never in its history has a Boston team been forced to bow to the superior prowess of a rival in such combat.

The victory over the Superbas in the final meeting of the teams was so clean cut and decisive that there was left no ground for argument. That the better team won the championship despite the determined battles put up by Brooklyn in the earlier games of the series, was obvious. Before the speed and curves of Ernest Shore, of East Bend, N. C., the Superbas were well nigh helpless while Jeff Pfeffer, the last hope of Brooklyn, proved unequal to the task of holding the Red Sox in check.

Brooklyn Scored First.

Although the Nationals were first to score, their advantage was short-lived and once the Bostons unlimbered their heavy batting artillery any doubt regarding the outcome of the game was dissipated, so closely did Shore hold the Brooklyn clan in the mystery of his deceptive delivery. The invaders from Greater New York were able to score only three hits for a similar total of bases, and the solitary run scored was unearned. It was the result of a pass, a sacrifice, an out and a passed ball. Boston, on the other hand, collected ten bases on seven hits and two of its four runs were earned.

Moderate Enthusiasm.

Although the contest was played before a record throng of fans, there was only a moderate amount of enthusiasm, the chilling weather and the ease with which the Red Sox disposed of their opponents, dulling the edge of such outbursts as sprang from grandstands and bleachers at the more thrilling points of the game. The day was bitter cold, with a piercing wind from the east and while the sun shone from a cloudless sky, there was little if any warmth in its rays. The 42,620 spectators, who paid $83,873 to witness the triumph of the American League champions, came prepared for the November-like weather. Overcoats, fur wraps, heavy gloves and in fact everything except ear laps were much in evidence and fully appreciated by the fortunate wearers.

Aside from Shore's clever cold weather hurling, and a sensational running shoe-top catch by Wheat off Shore in the fifth and its mate by Lewis in the eighth, when he robbed Merkle, batting for Pfeffer, of an apparently sure double, the game was devoid of feature plays.

Fans Start Parade.

Immediately after Scott had clinched the championship by gobbling Mowrey's short fly for the final out of the game ,the young element among the spectators rushed upon the field and fell in behind the Royal Rooters and their band for a parade. On the first circuit of the diamond, they captured President J. J. Lannis, of the Boston club, and then crossed the field after President C. H. Ebbets, of the Brooklyns. Amid the cheers of the fans the rival club executives joined arms and led the march, while thousands in the stands stayed to watch the celebration.

The players, however, did not wait to take part in the impromptu ceremonies. Both the Red Sox and Superbas streaked for the dressing rooms, and there were few if any congratulations. Manager Robinson did not meet Carrigan in his dash across the field and there was no public greeting or handclasp between the pair. Many of the fans, however, shook hands with the Red Sox players and with Manager Carrigan, who said again that he had retired from professional baseball with today's game.

Brooklyn's Score Unearned.

As was the case in yesterday's game, Brooklyn was the first to score. Its only and unearned tally came in the second session, when Shore issued his

CONVEY GREETINGS OF MOTHER CHURCH

Bishops From England and Canada Received in Episcopal Convention at St. Louis.

BISHOP THORNLOE CHEERED

Says Canadian Church Forbids Clergymen to Re-Marry Divorced Persons—Bishop Cheshire Submits Report.

St. Louis, Oct. 12.—References to the European war were frequent at the sessions of the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church here today.

The Right Rev. Huyshe Wolcott Yeatman-Biggs, bishop of Worcester, England, and the Right Rev. Henry H. Montgomery, secretary of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, Church of England, conveyed the greeting of the Mother Church to the convention and the Most Rev. George Thornloe, archbishop of Algoma, Ont., and the Right Rev. David Williams, bishop of Huron, Ont., expressed the good will of the Episcopal church of Canada. The pulpit from which they spoke was decorated with flags of the United States, England and Canada.

In receiving the fraternal delegates, the Right Rev. Daniel S. Tuttle, of St. Louis, presiding bishop, said:

"You have come from a country scarred and seamed by a gigantic war, a war begun unselfishly and being waged unfalteringly in the interests of justice and liberty and for the protection and preservation of international rights."

"I could not stand here to reply to your gracious welcome without touching the things which so deeply move us at home in the great war," the Bishop of Worcester said, "for you have never shown us your brotherliness of blood and faith with such acceptableness as you are doing now in your fellow feeling for what we have to bear and to achieve."

The bishop said America had always stood for justice, for humanity, for freedom and for self-government and in concluding he urged that, in judging England's action in conducting the war, Americans remember "how intricate and how complicated are the issues."

Bishop of Algoma brought cheers from the house when he mentioned that among the canons of the Canadian church is one forbidding a clergyman to remarry a divorced person, who has a former partner living.

The canon corresponds to the one proposed in the erport submitted to the

LINER ADRIATIC SAILS WITH 353 PASSENGERS

Vessel Also Carries 18,000 Tons of War Munitions.

She is Believed to Have Taken a Southern Course From Sandy Hook Last Night—Several Americans Are Aboard Her.

New York, Oct. 12.—With all lights extinguished, the steamer Adriatic, of the White Star Line, carrying 353 passengers and 18,000 tons of war munitions, was believed tonight to be speeding south from this port, well within the three mile zone of safety. Her announced destination was Liverpool and her course to that city would lead east from Sandy Hook.

She apparently followed in the wake of the freight laden Pannonia and Minnehaha. The Danish vessel Helligolav, more venturesome than the British steamers, took the easterly course, after clearing the bar. They were the first vessel to leave New York for European ports since the submarine raid of Sunday.

The Adriatic left her dock this afternoon but after reaching Sandy Hook, dropped anchor outside the bar.

The Helligolav carried about 200 passengers in her first and second cabins, and 250 in the third cabin. One of the passengers was L. C. Helveg-Larsen, former governor of the Danish West Indies. Captain L. Holst said just before sailing that he had had no orders to change his course during this trip. The steamer has a large cargo of grain.

Norfolk, Va., October 12. — Official notice received at the Norfolk navy yard today stated that the flag of the commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet will be transferred within the next week from the U. S. S. Wyoming to the U. S. S. Pennsylvania.

only pass of the day, franking Cutshaw to first, Mowrey sacrificed him to second, from which point he moved to third on Olson's infield out and scored when Shore uncovered the plate with a passed ball. Boston immediately tied the score in their half of the same inning, when Lewis tripled to left and came home as Wheat threw the ball recovered from Gardner's high fly wide of the plate.

The Red Sox added two more in the next turn at bat. Cady hit a bounder over Daubert's head. Hooper walked and Cady scored when Olson threw Javrin's grounder into center field in an attempted double play. Hooper romped home from third on Shorten's hit over second. The fourth and final run was manufactured in the fifth on Hooper's single and Janvrin's double. After that the Red Sox, aided by Shore's airtight twirling, played defensive ball and the Superbas never threatened.

Record Crowd and Receipts.

The attendance and receipts for today's game established a new record in this department of world's series history supplanting the figures made in the same park October 11, a year ago, when the amounts were a few hundred less. Neither the total attendance or money taken in at the box office surpassed the banner records made in 1911 and 1912, but the amount divided among the players establishes a new standard for money won by the contestants.

The attendance for the five games this season amounted to 162,359 and the receipts $385,590.50. Of this sum the players received $162,927.45; each club $92,052.02 and the National Commission $38,559.05.

The Boston club as winners divided $97,756.47 on a basis of 25 shares, which the players are understood to have agreed upon as the method of apportionment. This would allow $3,910.26 a share. The twenty-three Brooklyn players, as losers, divide $65,170.96 into equal shares of $2,834.82 each.

Owing to the fact that there are more players to shae in the winners' money this year, the individual share is not a record.

The team will hold signal drill Friday afternoon in Boston and leave for Cambridge Saturday morning, arriving just before the game. Several changes in the line-up have been made since the Princeton contest. Coaches Campbell and Cowan, formerly of Harvard, accompanied the squad.

DOPE FOR THE LOCAL FANS

Interesting Bits of Past World's Series History Gathered for the Rooters of Latest Series.

Hoping against hope the backers of the Brooklyn baseball team gathered on the square opposite The Star's bulletin board yesterday afternoon and watched the returns of the final game of the 1916 classic.

They were hopeful at first when the Dodgers scored in the first inning, but when the heavy artillery of the Red Sox started up the most ardent Brooklyn fans realized that their favorites were fighting against a forlorn hope.

The Red Sox admirers were jubilant on the other hand, and were confident from the beginning that the American League standard bearers would eventually win out. So, while the wires ticked off the baseball history that was being made on Braves' Field, the admirers of both victor and vanquished watched the world's championship pennant, being slowly hoisted until it finally fluttered from a Red Sox pole.

Yesterday's game makes the Boston team champions of the world for the fifth time in their career. They have won this coveted honor in 1903, 1904, 1912, 1915 and 1916. During the various years in which they have taken part in the big series, they have played a total of 26 games, winning 17, losing eight, and tieing one.

They have yet to lose a world's series, for on every occasion thus far they have triumphed over their rivals. In one instance they took the honors without playing a game. This was in 1903, when the New York Giants, flag winners in the National League, declined to meet the Bostonians for the hanors, the latter winning by default. On their list of victims they include Pirates, Giants, Phillies and now the Dodgers.

Of the 13 world's pennants that have been contested for by the rival teams of the National and American leagues (not including the one which Boston won by default) the American League champions have won eight, and the National League representatives five. The Americans have won a total of 38 games as against the 34 credited to the Nationals.

The Red Sox lead in the number of games played with 26. The Athletics come second with 25, while the other teams follow in the order named: New York Giants, 24; Chicago Cubs, 21; Detroit, 17; Pittsburg, 15; Chicago, White Sox, 6; Brooklyn, 5; Philadel-Nationals 5, and Boston Braves 4.

Carrigan's crew also stand first in games won, they having 17. The other teams are ranked as follows: Athletics 13; Cubs, 11; Giants, 10; Pittsburg, 7; White Sox, 4; Braves, 4; Detroit, 4; Phillies, 1; Brooklyn, 1.

In defeats, the Boston Braves have a clean sheet, they having won every game played. The White Sox lost only two, while the others come in the following order: Brooklyn 4; Phillies, 4; Red Sox, 8; Pittsburg, 8; Cubs, 9; Athletics, 12; Detroit, 12; and Giants, 13.

If the various teams that have participated in world's series contests were ranked in a percentage column according to the series won and lost they would shape up like this:

	W	L	Pct.
Boston, A. L.	4	0	1,000
Boston, N. L.	1	0	1,000
Chicago, A. L.	1	0	1,000
Philadelphia, A. L.	3	2	.600
Chicago, N. L.	2	2	.500
Pittsburg, N. L.	1	1	.500
New York, N. L.	1	3	.250
Philadelphia, N. L.	0	1	.000
Brooklyn, N. L.	0	1	.000
Detroit, A. L.	0	3	.000

MISSISSIPPI GUARDSMEN WIN IN THE SOUTHERN TOURNAMENT

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 12.—The Mississippi National Guard team today won the Southern championship at the National Rifle Tournament in progress on the Florida range, scoring 1,016 points out of a possible 1,200. The Georgia National Guard team, with 1,015 points, finished second, and the Florida National Guard team took third place, scoring 975 points.

The long range team match, the concluding event on the Southern programme, was won by the Georgia National Guard team, which scored 679 points out of a possible 800.

Mississippi, with 627 points, finished second and Florida third with 619 points.

The matches of the National Rifle Association begin tomorrow.

WILSON-BICKETT CLUB IS ORGANIZED IN UNIVERSITY.

Hon. Victor Bryant Delivers Strong Address to Students.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 12.—Hon. Victor S. Bryant, of Durham, was the chief speaker last night at the organization of a Wilson-Bickett Club in the University. He spoke to an interested crowd of over 200 students and a few townspeople, Prof. A. C. McIntosh, of the law department, introducing him. Previous to Mr. Bryant's speech Mr. R. M. Gant made clear the purposes of the organizations in the colleges of the State.

"No apology is necessary nor is an explanation offered," declared Mr. Bryant, "for the organization of a political club in the University. It is the only means of expressing our wishes in government. Young men of the country can't begin too early to take an interest in public affairs."

In speaking of the work of the Democratic party, the speaker said: "The Democratic party is responsible for the good legislation that has been enacted and is chargeable with the bad, if there be any. It has been in control of every branch of the State government for 16 years. I believe Democracy is the strongest influence in North Carolina for constructive legislation."

The work of the Democracy in furthering education in the State and providing for the health of its people was stressed. The speaker showed how 16 years ago there were less than 60 days in the average school term; today there are 124. The average salary for teachers has increased from $23 to $43. Expenditures for the health of the State have increased from $144 to $58,000 a year.

MORE FOR THE PEOPLE THAN 50 YEARS OF REPUBLICANISM.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Laurinburg, S. C., Oct. 12.—Congressman R. N. Page made a political address at the court house here this afternoon, having as an audience the flower of Scotland's Democracy. He was introduced by W. H. Weatherspoon, a lawyer of this place, and proceeded at once with an able discussion of the issues of the campaign. For the first time in his life, he said, he is going before the people, not as a candidate for office, but as a representative of the Democratic party.

"We are coming before you and asking your suffrage this year, not upon promises to be kept, but upon a record of legislative accomplishments that has no parallel in the history of the Republic." With this as an opener, he then declared that the Democratic legislation of the Wilson administration in the sum total of benefits to all the people represented more real progress than all the work of the Republican party for the past half century. "The Republican party is not and never has been a National party. It came into being as a sectional party and has legislated for the classes and not the whole people."

Coming to State issues, the speaker asked, "who is the boss of the Republican party in North Carolina?" and some one or more in the audience answered, "Marion Butler." He said he was the same man who bossed the Russell administration and the man who is now afraid to go on the stump in his native State.

Democrats to Canvass County—Revival Meeting—Orphanage.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Warsaw, N. C., Oct. 12.—Dates have been set for political speakings at points throughout the county, when the Democratic candidates for county offices will make addresses during the time until election. It is understood that prominent speakers from other counties of the State will speak at some of the meetings.

Rev. A. O. Moore, pastor of the Baptist church of this city, is conducting a series of revival services at Johnson's church at Lanefield, this week. Large crowds are in attendance, much interest is being manifested in the meeting, and great good is being accomplished by Mr. Moore's efforts.

Stereopticon slides of Barium Springs Orphanage were shown at the Presbyterian church here on Wednesday evening. The pictures were in charge of Miss Hudson, who was here in the interest of the orphanage, and gave the buildings and surroundings. Miss Hudson was assisted in showing them to a large and interested audience, by Prof. M. H. Wooten.

FAYETTEVILLE ALDERMEN HELP

Appropriate $500 for Campaign for Location of Armor Plant.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Oct. 12.—The board of aldermen of this city has appropriated $500 to help pay the expenses of the effort being made to bring the government armor plate factory to Fayetteville. The appropriation was made at the request of the chamber of commerce and will be added to a fund being raised by that body. Of course, there is considerable expense connected with a movement of this kind and the people of Fayetteville are responding liberally to the appeal for financial support.

The committee which went before the aldermen was headed by F. H. Stedman, the other members being C. C. McAlister, A. H. Slocumb, Dr. J. V. McGoughan and W. F. Blount.

The county commissioners were asked to make a similar appropriation but could not see their way clear to do so, as the county attorney advised them that he could find no law authorizing them to make such appropriation.

ONE DAY'S INCOME FOR THE ORPHANAGES WILL BE ASKED

People of State to Be Called Upon for Donations Thanksgiving.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 12.—The publicity committee of the North Carolina Orphanage Association, in a meeting just held in Raleigh, decided to follow the same policy this season that worked so well last season in obtaining donations for the orphanages of the State. That is, the people of the State will be called on to make a Thanksgiving offering of one day's income to go to the Orphanage of their choice. The committee consists of M. L. Shipman, James R. Young and Hight C. Moore. The donations to the orphanages was more than doubled in many instances last Thanksgiving Day, largely through the efforts of this committee in procuring one day's income donations.

Tanlac Week, Celebrating Victory of Great New Remedy in Nation, Proves Success as Many Praise

Former Sufferers from Stomach, Kidney and Liver Ills Enthusiastically Join in Tributes to Medicine Which Relieved Them

Sick, weak, nervous, run-down men and women throughout all the United States are taking a new interest in life today, because this is Tanlac Week, celebrating the presentation of The Master Medicine to the American people two years ago.

Tanlac today is in two million homes because it has won an honored place as a household remedy for stomach, liver and kidney troubles. The tens of thousands of people who have been benefited by Tanlac, the reconstructive tonic, appetizer, invigorant and revitalizer, are glad to join in praise of Tanlac because of their gratitude to Tanlac for relieving them of ills which discomfort, distress and endanger so many of their kinsmen, relatives, friends and neighbors.

Tanlac Is Nature's Remedy

Tanlac's aid to the people has been unusual. It has been simple and natural, for Tanlac is Nature's remedy for the common, everyday ills and diseases which beset mankind, debilitate both men and women, deprive them of the happiness and fullness of existence that ought by right to belong to everybody; impair the digestion, destroy the appetite; retard the functions of the vital organs, and thus by injury to the stomach, blood and nerves destroy vigor, ambition, and the general health.

The fact that Tanlac is sold and recommended by more than 8,000 druggists is in itself proof of its merit. The druggist is the firend and adviser of his customer. He says what he thinks is the truth about medicines.

"It gives universal satisfaction" is the usual commendation of Tanlac by druggists. "We are glad to handle it because our customers realize its worth."

Druggists Recommend Tanlac

The druggists who recommend Tanlac are the druggists who serve the people in the largest cities and in the smallest villages. But everywhere they are the big, upstanding, representative merchants of their communities, enjoying the confidence of all who know them. When they recommend a medicine they know that it is good.

"It is a pleasure to sell Tanlac because every purchaser is exactly satisfied" is a remark many of them make. "Tanlac gives satisfaction and people recommend it."

These 8,000 druggists in all parts of the United States who have so enthusiastically recommended Tanlac have a good reason for so doing.

They know that Tanlac deserves to be recommended. Back of Tanlac's triumphs in the drug store stand Tanlac's triumphs in the home.

Recognized as Supreme

Tanlac has so much merit, it is so splendid a remedy for stomach, digestion, kidneys and liver, that it has become a household remedy. Tanlac, known as The Master Medicine, is coming to be known as The National Tonic because it is recognized supreme as a reconstructive, upbuilder, appetizer, invigorant and revitalizer to relieve the weakness, illness and general depletion of body force resultant from the breaking-down of the digestive processes.

Mere eating is not enough to supply the body. The food taken into the stomach must be rendered into blood, bone and tissue. If the digestive organs are not ready to perform their functions the food becomes waste, sours, ferments and creates poisons which are carried throughout the system.

Tanlac is designed to aid assimilation so that food which is taken into the system will serve as fuel for the body to keep the human engine moving as it should. It has been said that Tanlac is like oil to machinery—it keeps the human engine moving smoothly and efficiently.

Fits People for Living

"Tanlac has made me one hundred per cent more efficient" is a tribute often paid to Tanlac. Men and women have been made better fitted for the job of living, stronger, more vigorous, more ambitious, because they had a greater power and strength to use in meeting duties and enjoying pleasures.

Indigestion, dyspepsia, belching and bloating from gas, sourness and soreness of the stomach, inactive liver, biliousness, dizziness, kidney troubles, sharp, shooting pains in all parts of the body, inactive liver, biliousness, dizziness, kidney troubles, sharp, shooting pains in all parts of the body, rheumatism, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, nervousness, irritability, falling off of weight, foul breath, catarrhal conditions of the mucous membranes—these ailments Tanlac was designed to relieve, and tens of thousands have testified that Tanlac relieved them, made them feel well and strong again, fit once more for the day's work and the night's sleep.

HUGHES CAMPAIGNS IN THE MOUNTAINS

Some Come Miles to Hear Him on Horseback, Some on Muleback, While Others Walk.

SPENDS DAY IN KENTUCKY

Says Wilson's "New Freedom" Had Been Transmuted in One Respect to "the New Slavery"—Discusses the Tariff.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 12.—Charles E. Hughes went through the mountains of Kentucky today, a new campaign field for Presidential nominees, outlining his views on the maintenance of the American rights and ended his day's tour of the state with a meeting here tonight in which he declared that the "new freedom" advocated by President Wilson four years ago had been transmuted in one respect to "the new slavery."

Mr. Hughes spoke in six towns today to audiences that had come, for the most part, for miles to hear him. They came from the mountains, men and women, on foot, on horseback and on muleback. Some of the mounts had saddles ,some had none and many of the women came wearing their faded sun bonnets and smoked their clay pipes as he talked.

To Pikeville, first stop of the day, hundreds had journeyed since sun up. A special train from Marrowbone, crowded to capacity, swelled the crowd.

At several stops the nominee's special train was backed down a spur track and he spoke to audiences in open fields. They sat on their horses and mules and in their farm wagons to listen. Some brought their families along and there were several hundred children, including babies in their mother's arms.

In his speech in Phoenix Hill hall here tonight Mr. Hughes devoted much of his attention to the protective tariff and to what he termed "the new slavery."

"We have much of the new freedom," he said. "It seems to have a surprising and deplorable range.

"It has meant freedom to sacrifice the principles of the merit system system which our opponents pledged themselves to enforce.

"It has meant freedom to embark the government in novel enterprises in competition with private business as in the case of the government shipping bill.

"It has meant freedom to depart from the principles of international law to conduct a personal diplomacy to satisfy personal vindictiveness.

"It has meant freedom to wage war, not to protect American rights, but to dislodge a disliked ruler and to leave our citizens and their property to anarchy and revolution.

"It means freedom to subvert the principles of government by yielding its authority to the demands of force.

"These innovations are serious blows to American business. But it is said that the administration has aided business, and strangely enough it refers to the 'anti-trust act.'"

BRITISH SHIP OVERTAKEN AND BROUGHT BACK TO PORT

Steamer Ignored American Destroyer's Signal to Stop.

New York, October 12. — The British steamship City of Madras was overhauled off Ambrose channel lightship tonight by the United States torpedo boat destroyer Sterrett, and brought back to Clifton, Staten Island, after it had ignored the war vessel's signal to stop, when it left quarantine.

It was said at quarantine late tonight that the City of Madras would be permitted to sail tomorrow morning, as her clearance papers are correct. She was forced to turn back it was explained, because she failed to obey an order of a United States warship on patrol duty.

Fanning, steamed out of the harbor at full speed late today, it was reported tha they would begin a neutrality patrol along the New England coast as a result of the recent German submarine raid. Other destroyers in the harbor were getting up steam.

Rear Admiral Austin M. Knight, commandant of the Narragansett Bay naval station, would not confirm the report ,but said that, while no official action had been taken to put a neutrality patrol into effect, it was probable that such a patrol would be established within a very short time.

From unofficial sources, it was understood that the destination of the three destroyers was the eastern coast of Maine, in the vicinity of Bar Harbor.

FRAIL, SICKLY CHILD

Father Tells How Boy was Restored to Health and Strength.

We have always told the people of Wilmington that Vinol is a wonderful body builder for ailing children. Here is more proof of the fact:—

J. L. Albury, of Miami, Fla., says: "Our little boy was puny and cross from the time he was born, and we hardly knew how to handle him. When he was three years old he was weak and so cross we could hardly live with him and we could not get him to eat anything. A friend asked us to try Vinol. We did so and you should see the change it has made in him. He is now a good-natured, healthy youngster, ready to eat at any time, and we cannot praise Vinol enough."

Vinol is especially efficient in building up puny, weak, ailing children, because of the beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptonates and glycerophosphates which it contains, and as it is without oil or grease, children love to take it.

FRAUDULENT BONDS IN HANDS OF WALL STREET

Governor Advises They Were Repudiated and Tells Why.

Inquiries Concerning These Reconstruction Bonds Continue to Come to the Governor—He Answers Them All.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 12.—In these times of frenzied finance and high tension campaigning, Governor Craig continues to receive now and again inquiries from a great diversity of people as to one and another of the worthless and repudiated North Carolina bonds of the Reconstruction period and he answesr them all as complacently and pointedly as he can. The following reply by the Governor written today to a Wall Street concern making inquiry for a customer reads quite interestingly just now:

"The bonds that you ask of have been declared by the people of North Carolina in their constitutional convention of 1875 to be fraudulent and void. They were repudiated and the convention ordained that they should never be paid unless the payment be authorized by a vote of the people.

"These bonds were issued by what is known as our Reconstruction government. The State received no benefit from them. The Legislature that provided for the issue of these bonds was composed of recently enfranchised negroes and white men holding certificates of election from military authorities. The governor who signed these bonds was impeached. The sessions of the Legislature were marked by orgies of corruption and debauchery. Those evil days will not be forgotten."

The inquiry thus answered by the Governor came from Brown Bros. Co., 49 Wall Street, New York, and specified that the bonds that the inquiry concerned were issued in April, 1869, and were due in 1899, bearing 6 per cent interest and bear the signature of W. W. Holden, governor, and D. A. Jenkins, State treasurer.

SAYS "BERLIN WILL KEEP ITS PROMISE" TO AMERICA.

August Thyssen Declares Ruthless U-Boat Warfare Will Not be Resumed.

Hamborn-on-the-Rhine, Oct. 11 (via London, Oct. 12).—That Germany will not take up submarine warfare again in the old or sharpened form is the opinion expressed to the Associated Press today by August Thyssen, the coal and steel magnate, who is in close touch with the empire's affairs. Herr Thyssen's assurance in the form of an abrupt declaration, "Berlin will keep its word"—uttered at the conclusion of a discussion of the present political situation, the new submarine activity off the American coast and the internal German movement for a sharper attitude toward Great Britain.

Herr Thyssen referred to Germany's promise to the United States in the Sussex crisis and his definite statement may be regarded as having a double significance because the Rhineland is considered to be a hot-bed of agitation for the resumption of a ruthless submarine campaign and because he is in constant touch with those who are controlling Germany's military and naval policies. He intimated that in the conduct of this warfare in the future mistakes by overzealous commanders may occur, but added: "They must be expected and excused, just as American army officers cannot be expected not to make similar mistakes in Mexico occasionally."

ASKS IF U. S. PROTESTS WERE IN BEHALF OF ALL NEUTRALS

Unionist Member Makes Inquiry in the House of Commons.

London, October 12. — Ronald McNeill, unionist, questioned Foreign Secretary Grey, in the House of Commons today, regarding the correspondence between the United States and Germany on the question of the violations of international law. He asked "whether the government of the United States in its correspondence with the German government, and its protests against violations of international law has confined itself to consideration of American interests or whether as the most powerful neutral nation it has made any attempt to protect neutral rights in general o rhas protested against outrages committed against other neutral nations?"

SUGGESTS PROSECUTION OF FARM LOAN BANK SWINDLERS

Farm Loan Board Members Say Practice Has Become a Scandal.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Attempts of promoters in the West to make personal profit out of the organization of joint stock land banks under the Federal Farm Loan Bank system, resulted today in a suggestion to the Department of Justice, by the Farm Loan Board, that Federal prosecutions be brought against such promoters. The board has ruled that no charter shall be granted a joint stock bank when any commission has been paid for its promotion.

Headquarters for Out-of-Town Shoppers. Mail Orders Receive Immediate Attention

ALLIES' REPLY ON MAIL SEIZURES IS RECEIVED

Text Not Yet Made Public by the State Department.

Identic Memorandums are Understood to Renew Promises to Make All Efforts to Minimize Delay and Annoyance.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Identic memorandums from the British and French governments replying to the American protest against seizure of neutral mails were delivered today to the State Department by the embassies here. The text was not made public, but the Allies are understood to give renewed promises that every effort will be made to minimize delay and annoyance caused by examination, but to insist upon certain legal rights in regard to mails which the United States has denied.

The principal complaint of the American complaint of the American government has been based on the contention that many vessels have been diverted from the high seas into British ports in order to give the British censors jurisdiction. There is no indication that the new memorandum makes any concession of principle on that point.

Reply is made in the memorandum to the American note of May 24 characterizing the Allies' treatment of mails as a "lawless practice" and saying that "only a radical change in the present British and French policy restoring the United States to its full rights as a neutral power will satisfy the government."

The Allies claim that as the United States admits the right of censorship for purely war purposes it cannot rightfully object to reasonable delays inevitable to that censorship. The new communication is the second to come from the Allies in the mail controversy which began January 4, with the United States entering a vigorous protest against "unwarranted interference with inviolable mail," which was regarded as "vexatiously inquisitorial".

The Allies replied on February 15, citing numerous cases where contraband had been shipped to Germany by parcel post and stating that parcel post therefore must be considered not as mail but as ordinary merchandise. It was promised, however, that the Allies "would refrain on the high seas from seizing letter mail."

On May 24 the United States replied by complaining vigorously against the Allies' method of applying this principle and by declaring the Allied governments had proceeded "to deprive neutral governments of the benefit of these assurances" by forcing vessels off their course into British ports to gain "illegal jurisdiction."

DEFENDS WILSON'S POLICIES

Senator Martin Says Opponents Should Admit They Advocate War.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 12.—"Those who oppose Woodrow Wilson's foreign policies should come out like men and declare 'We are opposed to peace and advocates of war," declared Senator Martin, of Virginia, today in addressing Norfolk's business men at a banquet in honor of the state's two United States senators and Congressman E. E. Holland. Senator Swanson was also present and spoke. Both senators defended the administration at length.

Entire villages and numerous mills were destroyed. The town of Fredericksted suffered less damage than was originally reported. The dmage done in St. Thomas is estimated to exceed $1,000,000.

SHE KEPT LIGHT BURNING

Pathetic Letter Found in Pocket of Drowned Sailor.

(From the Detroit News).

They dragged him up from the cold depths of the Detroit river and because he had a spark of life away down deep in his heart they hauled him to the receiving hospital, where he died soon after.

They searched his pockets and found that the man was "Bill" Pond, sailor, of Mackinac Island, and that he had a wife and little child. In one water-soaked pocket of his overalls was a damp, pulpy thing that on being dried proved to be a letter, and when a nurse read it she shook her head and crossed the big, rouch hands of the dead man on his breats and took the letter to the hospital office for the coroner's clerk.

It was a prettily worded letter and it told a grim tragedy and even presented a complete and graphic picture of a broken heart. The letter was from Bill's wife and it was written straight from her bruised heart.

"I listen to every sound," said the letter, "all through the night, thinking, hoping it is my husband coming back to me." And here the water of the river has blurred a few lines. "I keep the light burning every night to guide you home."

A sailor's wife, indeed, this woman seems to be, with her little lamp all trimmed and burning night after night, sending its faint glow across the broad sweep of waters that beat against the shores of Mackinac.

"Marion and I pray for 'daddy' every night and each morning I read the marine news so I know your ship has not gone down in some storm," the letter ran. "Oh, Bill, if things only were as they were once when we were younger and our love was new. If it wasn't for the drink, how different everything would be!"

Bill had read the letter many times, no doubt, for it was a little ragged about the edges and marked with faint black blurs where his tar-grimed hands had touched it. He knew that the wife was waiting in her little Mackinac home and that Marion was looking across the bay each morning and night toward the distant smudges on the horizon where other little girls' daddies were sailing back to baby daughters. He knew that his movements across the tumbled lake waters were followed by the wife with one finger tracing the journey of his ship from printed port to printed port. And he knew that liquor had played a fateful part. Perhaps that is why he plunged into the waters of the river Monday, or perhaps he only lost his footing and by accident found the end.

Whatever the reason, the woman who signed herself "your heartbroken wife" need no longer trim the lamp or spend sad hours looking out into the inland sea for the ship that will never come. The body of Bill Pond is in the county morgue waiting word for its disposal.

FOUR BRITISH SHIPS LEAVE.

Shipping Men at Newport News Say Blockade is Relieved.

Newport News, Va., Oct. 12.—Four British steamers, the first to leave since Sunday night, today steamed from this port despite the fact that the German submarine U-53 has not been located. Shipping men state that the steamings lifted the blockade which was declared on British shipping all along the coast following activities of the German underwater craft.

WOULD ABOLISH NEGRO MELODIES.

Asheville Music Director Says This Would be Effect of Dr. Rix's Plan.

(Asheville Times.)

"In laying emphasis on the dialect in negro songs," said Willis G. Cunningham today, "it seems to me that The Charlotte Observer and Dr. Frank R. Rix, director of music in the New York city schools, are losing sight of the chief value of negro music—that is its melody. Dr. Rix and The Observer would substitute good English for dialect in these songs, but in many instances such changes would destroy the melody. For melody depends upon rythm and rythm is virtually connected into words.

"Dr. Rix was one of my instructors and I have great respect for his judgment; but I am sure that such a change would be a loss to the literature of music in the world and especially in the south. I do not believe a majority of music teachers will favor the proposed change.

"Songs are not studied for their grammar and purity of language. There are thousands of folk songs and dialect songs that will have to be thrown away if they are to be pruned of the words that have helped to preserve their melodies throughout the centuries."

Mr. Cunningham is director of music in the Asheville public schools and chairman of the music committee of the Southern Conference for Education.

—JEREMY TAYLOR.

If you lose your sleep you can never get it back again.

Roosevelt is down on the mollycoddles but Roosevelt wants them to vote for Hughes.

When Teddy tells us what he would do, all it amounts to is confirmation of our suspicion.

Will the people vote for themselves or against themselves? That's the main question.

There never was a time when the slogan of some people to "Let well enough alone" was more fitting than in this presidential campaign.

Another American girl is going to marry a foreign prince, even if he does look as if he could give Charlie Chaplin a run for his money.

A Republican insists on taxing Chinese eggs imported into this country at 6 cents a dozen. There isn't much in laying eggs in China.

The Republican party in South Carolina will hardly sit up all night on the 7th of November to see if the pollholders will take the trouble to count his vote for himself.

The State Journal is right. The Republicans are attacking the Verdun of North Carolina Democracy when they assail the public school record. Their lack of gumption is surprising.

Hughes made it a point to make a special campaign for votes in the West, but we have to wait till the 7th of November before we can find out whether he could fool the West easier than he can fool the East.

Those Eastern women who have gone west to campaign for Hughes are leaving a bad taste in the mouths of men everywhere. The Westerners can't understand the antics of the "daisy dreadnoughts." Hughes certainly is having hard luck.

Big Business and Judge Hughes understand each other, hence there is no slack jaw in this campaign about the "vicious rich" and the "malefactors of great wealth," as Roosevelt was wont to call the heads of the great corporations. The recent banquet at the Union League Club was given in honor of Judge Hughes by "fifteen billion dollars worth of corporation directors," according to the New York World. Taft and Roosevelt were there and shook hands as if somebody's calf had been run over. It was a great feast and nobody swiped any of the cutlery. The wealthy corporation men were well pleased with Judge Hughes and he was just as much at home as if he had been a pet trust.

An equal suffrage lady who is canvassing for Hughes says: "Women can't understand men." Well, it surely is impossible for women to understand a man like Judge Hughes, but it is because he doesn't think it would be safe for any body to understand him. He prefers that the ladies should misunderstand Wilson and they are trying mighty hard to do so. However, all men fully understand Wilson, Roosevelt and Hanly, but the Hon. Hughes and the Hon. Sulzer have managed to keep us all guessing. The same Old Bill has said nothing, but Teddy's "feather duster" candidate has said a great deal more of it than Sulzer. This is no joke, because the equal suffragists who support Hughes don't know a joke when they see him.

REPUBLICANISM A HORRIBLE REMEDY.

The Hon. Frank A. Linney vigorously assails the minimum of Democratic efficiency, but he refuses to commend the maximum of Democratic efficiency and integrity. However, it has no effect on State loving North Carolinians who know that Mr. Linney's party in North Carolina never has made a score for either efficiency or integrity. Mr. Linney makes a rattling speech, but he cannot be the Republican party himself nor can he promise us Republican efficiency and integrity, nor has his party ever had any to spare. He may be able to speak for himself but no living man can speak for North Carolina Republicanism.

Mr. Linney's great handicap is his party's record. It has only one record and that is underscored with infamy. Mr. Linney can't change that record nor can he guarantee a different one for the future. As a matter of fact, the Republican party has been kept out of power in North Carolina on account of its blighting record. If it were possessed of either efficiency or character, it would have had some sort of showing with the fair-minded, conservative people of North Carolina. If the Republican party ever had a good record, it might be entitled to some chance, but loyal North Carolinians never have been able to put their trust in Mr. Linney's party.

For forty years we have anxiously watched the records of the Democratic and Republican parties, and we have seen room for improvement in both. We have observed, however, that the Democratic party is a progressive party, hence we have confidence in it, and its record of achievements justifies us in having faith in the Democracy.

Meanwhile, we have observed no improvement or progress in the Republican party. On the contrary, its standpatism and reactionaryism are notorious. Not a soul has to depend upon our observation for it, nor do we have to depend upon our own word for it without having our own allegations fully corroborated by credible witnesses and indisputable facts. The Republicans and their party leaders and their party record confirm what we say

Two-thirds of the Republicans substantiated these allegations in 1912, when the Republican party had gotten into such a deplorable condition that a great majority of the Republicans in America actually quit it and trecked with Colonel Roosevelt to Armageddon. They never went there for their health, either, for they agreed with Roosevelt that "the Republican party betrayed the people" and they also agreed with him when he declared that its national convention "stole" the nomination from him and that Taft "received stolen goods" when he accepted the nomination that he himself was after.

Only four short years ago the Republican party refused to trust itself and accused itself of betraying the people and stealing the nomination from a man who imagined that he was "serving the Lord." More than two-thirds of the Republicans were conscience stricken and repentant and went to the mourners' bench with Roosevelt. Of course, it is so, therefore what The Star says about it is substantiated. Even two-thirds of the Republicans in North Carolina can confirm every word we say, else they did not know what they were doing when they followed Colonel Roosevelt to Armageddon in 1912. The boys went to the mourners' bench with the Colonel and it shows that there are lots of good men in the Republican party in North Carolina. They are too good to backslide with Colonel Roosevelt and leave Armageddon, after all their trials in getting there.

Lots of North Carolina Republicans are going to refuse to backslide and go back to the party which their leader knows betrayed the people and stole the presidential nomination, according to the Colonel. They left the Republican party for good reasons and they are too good to go back to its standpatism and reactionaryism. They ought to know that the hope of this country is in the hands of its people, whether they be Republicans or Democrats, and all of us know that America's hope is being interpreted by the Democratic party. That party has interpreted about all that the Progressives claimed as their principles, hence they owe their support to the Democratic cause in this campaign.

The Hon. Chas. F. McKesson, of Morganton, a life-long Republican, sees the light that way and he is a good witness and a good man for doubtful Republicans to follow. He is one of the most eloquent and earnest men in North Carolina, and no good Republican or Progressive or weak-kneed Democrat can get around his reasons or his logic or his conscientious statement of the grounds upon which he has decided that it is his solemn duty to his country and to himself and to posterity to support President Wilson. We know he is right, because we can't get around his reasoning. All of us ought to know when men are right or wrong, and when they are wrong we ought to wash our hands of them. When men like Mr. McKesson get right, it is only right that we should be as conscientious and honest with ourselves as he is. No man should permit himself to be fettered by error.

If every word that Mr. Linney says about the short-comings of the Democracy were true, the people know that the Republican party would be a horrible and impossible remedy for it. Mr. McKesson knows that is so, and he knows that if the Democracy goes wrong it gets right just as quick as it can get on the job. There is hope in Democracy. Not a bit in Republicanism, standpatism and reactionaryism.

THE SUBMARINE RAIDS AND COTTON.

Taking the size of the crop and the needs of the world into consideration, compared to other staple products, cotton is intrinsically worth 25 cents a pound, in the opinion of State Warehouse Commissioner John L. McLaurin, of South Carolina, and he thinks that any little effect that the German submarine operations on this side of the Atlantic may have will be only temporary. Hhe makes the point that these exploits thus far have not been in the line of ships carrying cotton from Southern ports, anyway. The market quotations from day to day this week tend to confirm the views of Commissioner McLaurin, so far as the effect of the submarine operations are concerned. The principal effect was in the increased cost of marine insurance, he points out.

Commissioner McLaurin, in an interview with the Columbia correspondent of the Charlotte Observer, expresses the firm belief that any decline in the price of cotton will be only temporary. As evidence of his faith, he says he is holding his cotton and intends to do so until it brings what he considers a fair price, which he intimates would be close to 25 cents.

The government estimates of this year's crop combined with the size of the crop last year are enough of themselves to warrant the belief that we shall not see any more cheap cotton soon. Two very short crops in succession would seem to be sufficient cause for high prices generally until another crop or two of such proportions as to somewhat make up the shortage have been produced. The government's September 25 forecast this year is 11,000,000 bales, in round figures, the difference between the size of this year's crop and that of last year not being very material.

Unlike other products that are soaring so high—wheat, for instance, and war munitions—cotton will go up instead of down on the declaration of peace Commissioner McLaurin believes, an dhe thinks peace is not very far off. He points out that after peace is declared there will be no further use for war munitions, and it will check the demand for steel, iron, copper and all kindred products and by opening up the Russian ports will loose a three-year supply of wheat. So that if a man wanted to speculate and saw the end of the war coming, the wise thing to do would be to hold cotton or buy cotton and sell these other products short.

Mr. McLauirn makes the interesting point, too, that the mill takings in this country are so great and the speculators in spot cotton see so clearly that it is only a matter of time when prices will go much higher, he does not see any prospect of a marked decline in prices on account of Germany's submarine warfare.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS SCORES AGAIN

The Associated Press, for years recognized as the greatest news gathering, transmitting and distributing agency in the world, this week surpassed even its own remarkable record in reporting to its members the world series baseball games at Boston and Brooklyn. In this service its traffic department connected up 18 circuits, involving 26,000 miles of leased telegraph wires, over which one operator, sitting in the stand in the baseball field, flashed the details of the games, play by play, into 400 newspaper offices scattered throughout the country. Thus the fans gathered in front of the newspaper buildings were enabled to keep right up with the games as they progressed and learn the results the instant the deciding play was made or the "winning runner" crossed the home plate. Just such a feat was never accomplished before.

The Associated Press is a wonderful institution. It reaches the "four corners" of the earth and not only covers the civilized world, but has its correspondents in places where civilization has not gone. It has its representatives in every city and town of importance on the American continent, on the European war fronts and in the European and Asiatic capitals. Its correspondents interview generals, cabinet members and kings.

All its correspondents are drilled in accuracy and cautioned against sending reports without confirmation. All its army of workers in whatever department are taught to appreciate the tremendous importance of promptness and quick dispatch, but accuracy and caution are its hobby. It is conservative, non-partisan and impartial. Its membership includes newspapers of all shades of political faith, from the rankest Republican organ to the most zealous champion of Democracy. It is independent and impersonal. It has no capital stock and no stockholders. It is an association of newspapers cooperating in the gathering and dissemination of news, each for the benefit of all.

All its members have a voice in its general policy, election of officers, etc., but no one newspaper of itself has any power to say even what shall or shall not go on the wire. Any of its correspondents or members may offer news matter, but it is for the editors in the employ of the Associated Press to say whether such matter is of enough general interest to go on the wire. They are answerable, not to any newspaper but to the general manager, and he is responsible only to the board of directors, who are elected by vote of all the member papers.

It is a unique, wonderful, powerful and yet beneficent institution.

HAMLET SOME HUSTLER.

If there is a town in North Carolina that is making greater progress or growing more rapidly than Hamlet, our attention has not been called to it. Since the Seaboard decided to spend several hundred thousand dollars in new and larger shops at Hamlet, the physical hub of the Seaboard system, the town has literally grown by leaps and bounds.

The increase in Hamlet's population has been remarkable, one or two new banks have been established, new industries have located there, numerous new houses have been built or contracted for, and the town has entered upon an era of extensive street improvements. This week the town sold a $50,000 bond issue for street improvements and it was announced that the Baptists are planning to build a new $20,000 house of worship and a $4,000 parsonage. Practically every week some new and important development is announced. We shall not be surprised to see Hamlet a city of considerable proportions within a few years. Her people are enthusiastic and have caught the spirit that means advancement at a rapid pace along all lines of growth and development.

CURRENT COMMENT.

They are following Charles McKesson's example and for pretty much the same reason. Horace F. Murray, of Hendersonville, a veteran of San Juan Hill and a life-long Republican, will vote for Wilson because he believes this Nation "will be safer with Wilson at its head than it would be if Hughes were President." A good and all-sufficient reason in which all thoughtful Americans can afford to join.—Charlotte Observer.

A curious state of political affairs exits in Wisconsin, according to an article in the New York Evening Post, where several candidates on the Republican county committees are scornful of the State Central Committee and where Senator La Follette, running on the regular Republican ticket, is praising the Underwood tariff, the Eight-Hour law and the President's Mexican policy. From these references the Post's correspondent draws the conclusion that the situation in the Badger State is very favorable to Wilson, in spite of the fact that he has a normal Republican majority of 40,000 to overcome there. Wisconsin is the home of Simon-pure progressivism. A natural outcome of the progressive movement there has been a weakening of party ties. When men are absorbingly interested in principles they are apt to favor that party which is most effective in translating those principles into practice, no matter what its name and no matter what the previous affiliation of the voters. That the Democratic party at the present time and under Mr. Wilson's leadership is far more progressive in its tendencies than the Republican party led by Root and Gallinger and Cannon and Hughes is hardly open to dispute. It is most natural, therefore, that the progressive voters of Wisconsin should turn to the President.—Baltimore Sun.

Summarizing the healthy growth of manufacturing in the South, President Fairfax Harrison of the Southern Railway says in his annual report to the stockholders: "A notable feature of Southern manufacturing development is the rate at which the consumption of cotton, one of the principle raw materials of the South, has increased in Southern mills. United States Census figures show that in the twelve months ended July 31, 1916, the mills of the South consumed 3,526,787 bales, as compared with 3,026,969 bales last year, an increase of 499,818 bales or 16.51 per cent. The mills of all other states consumed 2,869,185 bales in the twelve months this year, as compared with 2,570,393 bales last year, an increase of 298,792 bales, or 11.62 per cent." Thus it is seen that the South made substantially a greater gain in cotton manufacturing than did the rest of the country. It is worthy of note, too, that the South is now manufacturing more cotton than all the rest of the country combined. This is as it should be since the South produces the raw material for this form of manufacturing, the only thing to be regretted being that the South did not work up sooner to this point of supremacy. But the most impressive lesson to be drawn from Mr. Harrison's figures, it would seem, is that if the South can make such great headway in manufacturing one of its raw materials, why can it not make more rapid gain in other manufactures? Why does cotton manufacturing so rapidly outstrip other forms of the industry?—Raleigh News and Observer.

If Too Fat Get More Fresh Air

BE MODERATE IN YOUR DIET AND REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT. TAKE OIL OF KOREIN.

Lack of fresh air it is said weakens the oxygen carrying power of the blood, the liver becomes sluggish, fat accumulates and the action of many of the vital organs are hindered thereby. The heart action becomes weak, work is an effort and the beauty of the figure is destroyed.

Fat put on by indoor life is unhealthy and if nature is not assisted in throwing it off, a serious case of obesity may result.

When you feel that you are getting too stout, take the matter in hand at once. Don't wait until your figure has become a joke and your health ruined through carrying around a burden of unsightly and unhealthy fat.

Spend as much time as you possibly can in the open air; breathe deeply, and get from Elvington's Pharmacy or any druggist a box of oil of korein capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself every few days and keep up the treatment until you are down to normal. Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, helps the digestion and even a few days treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight.

FIFTY CONTRIBUTORS HELP WILSON FUND

Five Team Captains Make Encouraging Reports.

Freight Office Makes Joint Contribution—One All the Way From Haverford, Pa.—Business Men Join in the Movement.

There were more than sixty contributors yesterday to the local Wilson campaign fund and with a number of assurances to be realized upon later in the week, it looks very favorable for a most creditable representation for Wilmington and this section when the returns are tabulated.

Five of the eleven canvassing teams made reports and five others sent word that they would be heard from later. Those who have felt the pulse of the public say that the "top of the ground has only been scratched" in the canvass and that there are many, perhaps, whom the committee will be unable to reach at all before the campaign closes. To all such there is an earnest invitation to send checks either to the chairman of the executive committee, or to The Star, and these will be promptly acknowledged.

As the prospects for Wilson's re-election become more and more favorable, the people are manifesting a livelier interest in providing the "sinews of war" with which to accomplish the desired results. Emphasis is laid, however, on the shortness of the time and those who expect to contribute are asked to do so now. All amounts will be turned over to Mr. Hugh MacRae, treasurer of the State Finance Committee, and a receipt will be mailed out to the subscriber from national headquarters where such a receipt is desired.

The contributions were notable yesterday for the several business men and firms who subscribed through the several committee chairmen. These names appear in the list below. Another notable contribution was through Mr. J. E. Gillard, for the employes in the A. C. L. freight offices, in this city. Entirely voluntarily, the sum of $12 in one dollar contributions was made up and sent to The Star to be assigned to Mr. S. A. Matthew's committee report. This is an example that might well be followed by other organizations, business and otherwise.

Another notable contribution was sent in through Capt. Warren L. Jones, who said that he was more encouraged by the words of loyalty to Wilson that he heard than by the amount of the contributions. One Republican admitted to Captain Jones that he was going to vote for Wilson and gave his dollar to the campaign fund, while another frankly admitted that he was a Republican and was going to vote for Wilson, saying that he believed his vote was worth more than the dollar that he might otherwise give.

But, still a more grateful contribution was received during the day, entirely unsolicited, from Master Hugh MacLean Wilson, of Haverford, Pa., a little grandson of Postmaster H. McL. Green, of this city, and the son of Prof. and Mrs. E. H. Wilson, of Haverford College. He sent $5.00 and his name is presented on the roll of honor below.

Thus far there have been nearly 300 individual contributors to the Wilmington fund and while the amounts are small in a great majority of instances, President Wilson has made it known that these gifts are appreciated as coming from the masses, more than the larger contributions that might come from the classes. It is a popular subscription for the people's candidate and they are more than ever encouraged to believe now that he will win.

Wilmington should be especially proud of the way it is "standing by the President" in this campaign for contributions for the reason that Norfolk, the rival port to the north of us, is finding difficulty in subscribing anything at all to the support of the national administration. The Virginian-Pilot of Wednesday morning carried a story to the effect that the local committee there is about to abandon its campaign for funds, setting forth that several thousand letters had been sent out, but that there had been no responses. Across the roads, Hampton and Phoebesus, the paper says, have raised half as much as Norfolk, Lynchburg has raised more; Richmond has raised four times as much and other cities have exceeded Norfolk proportionately. This state of affairs in the "chief seaport to the north of us" should make Wilmington all the more anxious to secure a creditable showing in this final effort for the Democratic party in the Nation.

And while the funds are being received here, loyal Democrats should not forget the important matter of registering so that they may participate in the election in November. An overwhelming vote is needed and the state should be not only to "help Wilson in the debatable territory" by sending funds thither, but they should register and vote at home.

Today it is hoped that all the canvassing committees will get busy and secure as large a number of contributions as possible. Those acknowledged to date are as follows:

MAY HAVE CONFERENCE TO DISCUSS LIVE STOCK

Chamber of Commerce Extends Invitation to Experts.

Report of Bridge Committee to Be Considered at Later Meeting—Proposed Extension of Waterworks Discussed.

A livestock conference under the direction of the Southern Settlement and Development Organization during the Corn Show in Wilmington, is a probability as an invitation was extended by the Chamber of Commerce, at its regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon, to Mr. Clement S. Ucker, vice-president of the organization, and Mr. F. H. Abbott, publicity agent, asking them to confer with the local authorities as to the feasibility of such a meeting.

The report of the bridge committee of the chamber, giving the results of the recent negotiations for securing a bridge across the Cape Fear, was referred after some discussion to the executive committee and will be discussed at a later meeting of the chamber. The question of extending the waterworks system of the city into outlying sections, where fire protection is needed, was referred to the industries and business enterprises committee of the chamber.

An interesting feature of the meeting was the report made by Mr. W. D. MacMillan, Jr., that the Federal government had appropriated $7,500 towards the building of the Wilmington-Fayetteville highway. Mr. MacMillan said that practically all the appropriation from the Federal aid fund this year had been given to the Western part of the State because of the great damage done by the floods during the summer and that next year there would be a much larger sum available for the Wilmington-Fayetteville highway.

The building of a bridge across the Cape Fear river is a much more serious proposition than many members of the Chamber of Commerce have thought was the opinion of Mr. M. S. Willard, who thought that the report of the bridge committee should be taken up at a later meeting. He did not understand that the Chamber had ever endorsed the building of a bridge at any particular point. One of the important things to be considered, he pointed out, is the effect that a bridge would have upon the future development of the port.

Wilmington must depend to a large extent for her commerce upon her port facilities and even a small hinddance to navigation might have serious consequences, he thought. Practically all the river interests are opposed to the building of a bridge at the foot of Market street, he pointed out, and he believed that these objections ought to be given serious consideration.

President Jacobi thought that the report ought to go to the executive committee for consideration before being taken up by the chamber. Mr. W. D. MacMillan, Jr., chairman of the committee, wanted to know whether his committee should continue its work and it was suggested that the bridge committee meet with the executive committee.

Mr. J. R. Eddy explained the proposition for holding a live stock conference, stating that the Southern Settlement and Development Organization is supported by the railroads of the South and that recently a series of conferences have been held in the South, one being in session this week at Orangeburg, S. C. He thought one could be arranged for Wilmington during the Corn Show that would prove highly profitable.

Mr. L. B. Sasser suggested that possibly the State Department of Agriculture, in co-operation with the A. & M. College, could send a carload of cattle for demonstration purposes. It was decided to extend an invitation to the officers of the organization in charge of the conferences, asking them to come to Wilmington if it is possible for them to do so.

The need of extending the waterworks system into the northern part of the city was brought to the attention of the chamber by Mr. Roger Moore, who explained the urgent necessity of adequate fire protection for that section if the industries that are now there are to remain. It would cost about $8,000 to make the improvements, he stated, and City Council has the authority to borrow the money.

Mr. C. C. Chadbourn said there are two sides to the question. He thought that all would agree that the city has enough taxes and enough bonds. While he had recently built a lumber plant in the southern part of the city and needed fire protection, he had selected the site because the land was cheap and he supposed those in the northern part of the city had done the same. He believed that City Council would have the work done, if the money was available, but as already pointed out the budget for the year calls for an expenditure of $324,000, while the city will only receive $319,000 in taxes.

Upon motion of Mr. L. B. Sasser, seconded by Mr. E. A. Metts, the matter was referred to a committee for consideration.

President Jacobi stated that the outlook for the Chamber is very promising and he thought that it will be able to do better work than ever before. Three thousand dollars have been raised for establishing a traffic bureau while the revenue for other purposes is in good shape. The Chamber now has a membership of 267. Weekly meetings of the executive committee are being held at which many matters have been taken up. He thought that the people of the city need to get better acquainted with its advantages and with its resources and believed that the Chamber can perform a useful service in this direction.

Owing to a misunderstanding as to the time of the meeting, there was not a large attendance yesterday.

—Among the deeds filed yesterday in the office of the Register of Deeds were the following: W. A. Dick to R. F. Hall, two lots at Carolina Court, $10 and other valuable considerations; Owen Horne to A. E. Blake and wife, for $5 and other considerations, tract in Masonboro township on the belt road; Wm. S. Bernard and wife to Mrs. Julia A. Register, for $100 and other considerations, two tracts of land in Harnett township.

SCOTTISH RITE MASONS CELEBRATE FEAST DAY

Banquet Last Night Attended By Two Hundred Guests

Eloquent Addresses by Prominent Local Masons—Rev. Dr. J. J. Hurt Orator of Evening—Dr. Pridgen Toastmaster.

The annual feast day of Scottish Rite Masons was fittingly celebrated at an elaborate banquet at the Orton last evening when two hundred guests, including a large number of the fair sex, after enjoying a splendid dinner heard appropriate toasts while interspersed in between was pleasing music both instrumental and vocal.

Dr. Claude L. Pridgen, orator of the Co-Ordinate Bodies of the Scottish Rite Masons in Wilmington, was toastmaster and he performed the duties of this position in a most acceptable manner. Rev. Dr. John Jeter Hurt, pastor of the First Baptist church, was the orator of the evening and delivered the closing address in which he paid an eloquent tribute to Freemasonry.

Dr. Hurt had for his theme, "Family, Fraternity and Faith," showing that while the family is the basis upon which all society rests that faith in its broad sense is an essential part of life. Without confidence in each other, men could not live together in society. His address was one of profound thought and presented the fundamental principles of Masonry in a very striking way.

Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, responding to the toast, "To the Ladies," congratulated them on their being present and declared that as they had always been good and stuck by the men, they certainly deserved all the happiness and pleasure which their brothers, fathers and husbands could give them.

The spacious dining room of the Orton was prettily decorated for the occasion. Back of the table at which the toastmaster and a number of the speakers sat, were banked Southern smilax and other flowers, including a great vase of gladiolas on the table itself, while flowers were also used as decorations for all the individual tables.

A most attractive feature of the musical programme was the rendition of "Sleep, My Baby, Sleep," by the Scottish Rite Quartette, composed of Messrs. W. R. Dosher, A. L. Dosher, W. B. Muse and W. A. McGirt. The members of the quartette were forced to respond to an encore for which they sang a humorous variation of "Mary Had a Little Lamb." Grainger's orchestra played throughout the evening at short intervals.

Responding to the toast, "To All Masons and Masonic Bodies," Mr. Chas. Bailey Newcomb, Knight Commander of the Court of Honor, and Secretary fo Local Masonic Bodies, in telling of the call which duty imposes upon the order to relieve the needy and sick and succor the oppressed, presented on behalf of Johnston Blakely Lodge of Perfection a check for a substantial sum to Adjutant James Yates, of the Salvation Army, that he might use it in his work of relieving the sick and the needy.

Mr. Francis H. McCullough, in response to the toast, "To the Supreme Council," declared that while Masons on this, their Thanksgiving Day, had much to be thankful for, most of all they should be thankful for that august body of law-givers of Masonry which sits at Washington and promulgates the laws, principles and edicts of Scottish Rite principles.

He added: "We have all learned to love the edicts of that Supreme Council, and we feel that the duties of their high office could have hardly been discharged in better fashion."

In response to the toast to the memory of the Departed Brothers, Mr. Linwood Dozier Latta paid a strikingly beautiful tribute to the lives of the members of the order who have died during the past year, declaring that as death is the portion of every man and woman, it behooves all to live useful lives, not in idleness, but in making the best preparation for a peaceful eternal sleep, when the labors of life have ceased.

Mr. Eugene E. Graham, called upon to give the toast to "The Grand Lodge of North Carolina," declared that there was little need to dwell upon the personnel of the Grand Lodge, since they had with them as toastmaster its Deputy Grand Master, with whose character and ideals all were familiar. He referred to the Grand Lodge's efforts to aid deserving charities, and made particular mention of the work being done at the Masonic and Eastern Star Home and also at the Oxford Orphanage.

Given the toast, "To the Grand Commander," Mr. Jos. Henry Mitchell paid a glowing tribute to the sterling qualities both as a Mason and a professional man which had been displayed by Sovereign Grand Commander George Fleming Moore, whose sure grasp of the principles of law had won him appointment to the office of United States District Attorney at the hands of President Cleveland in addition to the greatly coveted honors which had been bestowed upon him as a Mason, for his great work in behalf of that order.

Mr. Frederick G. Rose gave the first toast, "To the Government of Our Country," and took occasion in a brief sketch of its steady growth since its establishment and love of the principles of true liberty, to refer to the fact that the people have never lost thought of the ideal expressed in the Declaration of Independence that "all men are created equal" and that all should have a voice in the government.

The menu for the banquet last night follows:

Clam Bouillon in Cup
Olives Celery Pickles
Grilled Pompano, Parsley Butter
Julienne Potatoes
Fruit Punch
Broiled Young Chicken on Toast
Mushroom Sauce
Pyramid Potatoes Green Peas in Cases
Waldorf Salad

The following committees had charge of the arrangements for the banquet: Refreshments, Messrs. P. B. Bell, H. A. Huggins and E. E. Graham; invitation, Messrs. C. B. Newcomb, F. M. Holley and E. L. White.

Prior to the banquet the members of Johnson Blakely Lodge of Perfection observed the annual "Feast of Ceremonies" with appropriate exercises in the Masonic Temple.

FARM LOAN ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED LAST NIGHT

Directors of Truckers' Organization Launch Movement.

Twenty-Two New Hanover Farmers Subscribed For Loans Aggregating $30,000—Other Matters Discussed at Quarterly Meeting.

Twenty-two New Hanover farmers subscribed for loans aggregating $30,000 as the nucleus for forming a National Farm Loan Association and formed a temporary organization to make application for a charter at the quarterly meeting of the directors of the Wilmington Co-Operative Truck Growers' Association at the court house last night.

The following temporary officers were elected to look after the organization of the association: President, Mr. J. P. Herring; vice president, Mr. George H. Hutaff; secretary and treasurer, Mr. E. H. Freeman.

One of the most important matters discussed at the meeting of the directors was the securing of a permanent home or headquarters for the Truck Growers' Association. A committee composed of Messrs. E. I. Tinga, W. D. Rhodes and George H. Hutaff was appointed to take steps towards securing or erecting at a central point a building which will be the headquarters of the organization. The committee was instructed to formulate plans to this end and to report at a later meeting.

Mr. W. D. Rhodes, the energetic secretary of the association, suggested that the time has come when the organization should own its home. This met with the general approval of those present and it was unanimously agreed that it should be undertaken at once.

It was decided that the association should have a social meeting at an early date to which will be invited the friends of the members. A committee was appointed to decide upon the time and to make the arrangements. The committee is composed of Messrs. C. H. Bonham, George H. Hutaff and J. G. Seitter. The purpose is to get the members closer together for mutual profit and benefit.

One of the big needs of the farmers of New Hanover is more lime for their lands and Mr. Van Bavel, of Castle Haynes, thought it a shame that there is plenty of it "right at our very doors and yet we are unable to get it." He moved that the directors go in a body before the County Commissioners and ask them to provide means for getting lime from the deposits on the county land.

Several present called attention to the fact that the County Commissioners had been asked once before to do this, but that it did not seem to be a feasible proposition because it did not appear that there was a sufficient demand for the lime to justify putting in costly equipment to get it in shape to be used on lands.

Messrs. J. P. Herring and W. D. Rhodes pointed out that lime can be secured from New Bern at $1.50 a ton, plus the freight which to Wilmington is 77 cents, and they doubted if the county lime could be secured at lower cost, owing to limited demand for it and the difficulty of transporting because of its inaccessibility, the county land being in the northern part of the county at a considerable distance from the railroad.

It was the unanimous opinion of those present that more lime is needed, but after much discussion it was decided not to take it up with the Commissioners at the present time.

After the business session, Mr. J. P. Herring, who as president presided at the meeting of the directors, explained the provisions of the Federal Farm Loan act. He thought that an association formed in New Hanover county would bring not less than one hundred thousand dollars to begin with and this would enable the farmers to make great progress. It provided a feasible means, said he, for lifting mortgages and for getting the farmers where they can be independent.

Practically everyone present at the meeting signed applications for loans including several Wilmington business men, who own farms. Mr. Herring stated that he had the names of a number of farmers, not present who would join the association.

Among those who advocated the forming of the association were Messrs. E. H. Freeman, J. S. Funchess and W. D. Rhodes.

FUNERAL OF MR. HOLDEN.

Services Were Held Yesterday at Bellevue Cemetery.

Funeral services for Mr. S. W. Holden, who died early yesterday morning at his residence on Chestnut street, were held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the graveside in Bellevue cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. J. A. Sullivan, pastor of Calvary Baptist church.

A large number of beautiful floral tributes attested in some measure to the high esteem in which the deceased was held in this community. The pallbearers were as follows: Messrs. N. M. McEachern, W. C. Peterson, Daniel H. Penton and Herbert O'Neill.

LIKE FINDING MONEY.

J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. Offer Popular Medicine at Half Price.

J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., the popular druggists, are making an offer that is just like finding money, for they are selling a regular 50 cent bottle of Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price. In addition to this large discount they agree to return the money to any purchaser whom the specific does not cure.

It is quite unusual to be able to buy fifty cent pieces for a quarter, but that is what this offer really means, for it is only recently through the solicitation of the J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. that this medicine could be bought for less than fifty cents. They urged the proprietors to allow them to sell it at this reduced price for a little while, agreeing to sell a certain amount. The result has justified their good judgment for the sale ha sbeen something remarkable.

Anyone who suffers with headache, dyspepsia, dizziness, sour stomach, specks before the eyes, or any liver trouble, should take advantage of this opportunity, for Dr. Howard's specific will cure all these troubles. But if by any chance it should not, the J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. will return your money.

BIRTHDAY SUPPER AND DANCE IN HONOR OF MR. J. B. GEBOTT

Bolton, N. C., Oct. 12.—One of the most delightful events of the season was the birthday supper and dance given last night by Mrs. J. B. GeBott at her attractive home, in honor of her husband's 40th birthday. It was one of those surprise affairs, Mr. GeBott being sent to Wilmington early in the day on "an important mission" with instructions to be home by 7:30. The home was beautifully decorated, the parlor, living room and dining room being thrown into one big dining hall, where covers were laid for fifty guests. Upon Mr. GeBott's return he found all of his friends seated at the table awaiting his arrival.

During the supper, a delightful musical programme was rendered by the Whitlock-West orchestra, from Wilmington, which also furnished music for the dance afterward. Several toasts were given to Mr. and Mrs. GeBott, and many handsome gifts were brought in to be presented Mr. GeBott by Judge Clark. The affair came to a close in the wee sma' hours of the morning, every one voting it one of the most delightful social affairs ever given in Bolton.

CLOTHES DISAPPEAR FROM HOUSE ALONG WITH UNKNOWN BOARDER

Lodger Suffers Loss of Clothes While Landlady Mourns Board Bill.

Mr. Marion Rutland, a roomer at the home of Mrs. S. L. Chinnis, at No. 512 North Third street, awoke yesterday morning to find that his wardrobe was shy one suit of clothes, one pair of shoes and one shirt. Simultaneously with the disappearance of the clothing came the discovery that one of the boarders, who had arrived the day before, had likewise vanished.

Putting the two disappearances together, both Mr. Rutland and Mrs. Chinnis were convinced that there was some connection between the two, and as the day passed without the lodger putting in an appearance, it became more than a supposition, and looked like a grim reality. Late in the afternoon the police were notified and Plainclothesman D. W. Coleman went to the scene.

No one seems to know the name of the stranger, and the only clue to his identity was a name inscribed in a book which he left behind. This name is W. L. Speight, and the address given was Columbia, S. C.

MAY PASS THROUGH WILMINGTON

Engineer Troops May Give Parade Here on Way to Border.

The two North Carolina companies of engineers, now stationed at Camp Glenn, will pass through Wilmington on their way to the border, if the plan of Captain George W. Gillett, officer in command, are carried out, according to Quartermaster Sergeant William L. Smith, of Company A, who is in the city on official business.

Sergeant Smith further stated that, as the troops would have a short stay in Wilmington, it was probable that in event of their passing through this city, that they would participate in a parade and review while here. As there are somewhere in the neighborhood of 60 Wilmington men in the company, the people of Wilmington are anxious for the plans of Captain Gillett to materialize.

The boys are well clothed and cared for, says the sergeant, and are enjoying every minute of their time. They are indulging in a great amount of drilling and are rapidly rounding into seasoned soldiers.

"A Trial Is All We Ask"

WILMINGTON'S NEW WHITE WAY SECOND TO NONE IN THE SOUTH

New Type of Light Is Successor to the Cluster Type of Lamps.

North Front street presented a really metropolitan appearance last night when all the new lights were turned on for the first time. In order to appreciate fully the effects of the new lights it will be necessary to stand at Front and Princess streets, where the new white way merges with the old, and note the difference.

Wilmington now has the distinction of being the only city North Carolina equipped with the nitrogen mazda type of lighting. This type is the latest creation in the art of the illuminating engineers, and is the kind that is used in the larger cities of the country. Two of these lights placed opposite each other as they are on Front street have a candle power of 2,000, while the old arcs carried a light of only 660 candle power.

Work will now be pushed in the construction of the new lights on that portion of Princess street between Front and Third. When this is completed South Front street will come in for its share between Princess and Orange. Later Market street between the river front and Third street will be equipped with the new type of light, and the concluding installations will be on Princess between Front and the river.

All the poles along the business streets where these new lights are going up will be removed with the exception of those that are used to support the new lights. This will add greatly to the appearance of the street in daylight.

HURON TO RELIEVE CHEROKEE.

New York-Jacksonville Boat Will Make One Trip to Wilmington.

The Huron belongs on the New York-Charleston and Jacksonville division. It will clear from New York on October 11, and will leave Wilmington on the return trip on the 24th.

The Cherokee will be assigned to the San Domingo line for one trip, to relieve a vessel on that line that has been placed in the dry dock. The Cherokee will resume its run early in November. The Huron, however, is a larger and more commodious ship.

This is the third successive day that the fire department has been called out this week, following close on the heels of the Fire Prevention Day ceremonies last Monday.

Magical Effect of Simple Face Peeler

To maintain a clear, white, youthful complexion, there's nothing so simple to use and yet so effective as ordinary mercolized wax, which you can get at any drug-store. Just apply the wax at night as you would cold cream. In the morning wash it off with warm water. If you've never tried it you can't imagine the magical effect of this harmless home treatment. It causes the old worn-out scarf skin to come off in minute particles, a little at a time, and soon you have entirely shed the offensive cuticle. The fresh young under-skin now in evidence is so healthy and girlish-looking, so free from any appearance of artificiality, you wonder why you had not heard of this marvelous complexion-renewing secret long ago.

Equally magical in its action is a simple wrinkle-removing lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint of witch hazel. Bathing the face in this for two or three minutes immediately affects every line and furrow and improves facial contour wonderfully.

COLUMBUS DAY CELEBRATED

Rev. Father Bour Principal Speaker at Knights of Columbus Hall Last Night.

Columbus Day was celebrated in Wilmington last night by local council, No. 1074, Knights of Columbus, at their hall on North Third street, opposite the city hall. After a musical programme, and an address by Rev. Father Bour, an informal dance was held in the hall.

Grand Knight George P. Galvin presided and made an eloquent address in which he paid high tribute to the discoverer of America. He told of how Columbus, in seeking a new route to the Indies, kept steadily to his course in spite of the pleas and threats that were made against it. Mr. Galvin said that in the race of life much could be accomplished if we, like Columbus, held our course" steadily westerly" and wavered not in our purpose.

Ex-Judge E. K. Bryan introduced the speaker of the evening, the Rev. Father Bour. Mr. Bryan said to begin with that he was not going to make a speech since custom forbade it. However, he touched in a general way on the character of Columbus, and made several humorous remarks that put the audience in good humor. He then introduced Father Bour.

Father Bour delivered a masterly address on the Life of Christopher Columbus. He opened his address by saying that from time immemorial mortal man had found his lot on earth to be one of sorrow and tribulation, and that Columbus was not alone in suffering the misfortunes that befell him.

At intervals throughout the evening vocal selections were rendered by Mrs. E. K. Bryan, Mr. D. A. Bockfaw and Miss Annie Banks.

The informal dance held at the close of the other exercises was greatly enjoyed by all, especially the young people.

The committee from the Knights of Columbus, in charge of the celebration consisted of Messrs. James O. Reilly, chairman; George P. Galvin, Paul Comes, J. J. Allen, Dr. T. B. Carroll, H. A. Webber and D. M. Carroll.

GODWIN AND M'CASKILL DEBATE AT LUMBERTON

Crowd Shows Itself Decidedly With Democratic Candidate.

Mention of Names of Wilson and Simmons Followed by Demonstration; Silence Greets Hughes' Name.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton, N. C., Oct. 12.—Congressman Godwin and Candidate McCaskill held a joint discussion in the court house here this afternoon. About 200 people were present, several Indians and a few negroes being in the crowd. Mr. McCaskill was the first speaker, consuming nearly an hour in assaulting the State Democratic administration.

He was considered an expert at figure juggling to shit himself to the occasion. He made no mention of National affairs other than to try to tell something about the tariff, a subject on which he threw little if any light.

Mr. Godwin followed in an hour's speech devoted to National affairs. It was soon seen that it was a Godwin audience, and those who had been nodding during McCaskill's speech were wide awake. At the mention of Hughes' name a deathlike silence prevailed, not a sound being heard except the speaker, but as the names of President Wilson and Senator Simmons were mentioned, great demonstrations followed. Republican speakers are throwing away time coming into Robeson.

Messrs. Godwin and McCaskill left here for St. Pauls where they were billed to speak tonight, concluding their joint canvass of Robeson. They will be in Columbus next week.

GODWIN AND McCASKILL AT FAIRMONT AND ROWLAND.

Fairmont, N. C., Oct. 12.—Hon. H. L. Godwin and A. L. McCaskill, Republican nominee for Congress from the Sixth district, held a point debate here last night before a house of about 200 men. Mr. Godwin spoke of the fulfillment of Democratic promises and achievement. He said the Democrats did not have to beg for support by making promises, but had a right to ask for support on their record.

Mr. McCaskill consumed his one-hour allotted to him mostly in criticising the Democratic party and what they have and have not done. He charged that the great prosperity at this time is caused by the war.

While there was a good crowd to hear the speakers, it is safe to say there were no votes made. What few Republican voters that are here will remain Republicans regardless of what can be said and regardless of what the Democratic party has done for them. The Democratic party has ever been strong and no amount of hot air and abuse of the Republican speakers can shake their faith in the true and tried.

Rowland, N. C., Oct. 12.—Before a large crowd of voters Hon. H. L. Godwin, the incumbent, and A. L. McCaskill, of Fayetteville, contested here yesterday afternoon for congressional honors. McCaskill was first speaker. He opened his address by telling the voters to examine his record and compare it with that of Mr. Godwin and if they found it to be better, then he would expect their support. His remarks were in the main devoid of personal attack. He next made an attack on the Democratic administration in State politics, in fact, his whole address was directed to State affairs. The main argument advanced by him was the extravagance of the officials in the management of the different State offices, citing as special instances the enormous amount of money spent in the Insurance Department, State penitentiary and in the mismanagement of the Soldiers' Home. He was given an attentive hearing, but failed to get any applause from the audience.

Mr. Godwin opened his remarks by stating that from the looks of the crowd he was sure that they all were on the Lord's side and he would not take up time in calling sinners to repentance as Rowland as well as Robeson county could always be counted in the Democratic column. He next launched into an attack on Mr. Hughes and other Republicans who, he alleged, wanted to get back in power to foster the special interests at the expense of the poor man. He next paid a eulogy to the President for keeping the nation out of war and defended his foreign and Mexican policies. The balance of his address was spent in telling of the constructive legislation passed by the last Congress, discussing in detail the rural credits bill, income tax and currency law. Mr. Godwin seemed to be confident of re-election and met his opponent's arguments at every stage. The crowd was well pleased with his address, interrupting several times with prolonged applause. It seemed to be Godwin day from the beginning.

What Thin Folks Should Do To Gain Weight

Good Advice for Thin, Undeveloped Men and Women.

Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak nerves and feeble stomachs who, having tried advertised flesh-makers, food-fads, physical culture stunts and rub-on creams, resign themselves to life-long skinniness and think nothing will make them fat. Yet their case is not hopeless. A recently discovered combination of assimilative agents has made fat grow after years of thinness, and it is also unequalled, judging from reports, for repairing the waste of sickness or faulty digestion and for strengthening the nerves. This remarkable preparation is called Sargol. Six strength-giving, fat-producing assimilative elements of acknowledged merit have been combined in this preparation, which is endorsed and used by prominent people everywhere. It is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient.

A few weeks systematic use of Sargol should go far to produce flesh and strength by correcting faults of digestion and by supplying nourishing fats to the blood. If not, every druggist who sells it is authorized to return the purchase price. Increased nourishment is obtained from the food eaten, and the additional fats that thin people need are thus provided. All leading druggists supply Sargol and say there is a large demand for it.

U. D. C. ELECT OFFICERS WITHOUT ANY CONTEST

Mrs. Jacksie Daniels Thrash, of Tarboro, is New President.

Mrs. W. M. Creasy Re-Elected Recording Secretary in Convention at Gastonia—Mr. Ricks Thanked. Portrait of Mrs. Parsley.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Gastonia, N. C., Oct. 12.—Contests for State offices which Dame Rumor early in the day predicted would occur in the convention of the North Carolina Division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, holding its twentieth annual session here, failed to materialize this afternoon when that feature of the day's business was reached. The meeting was a real love feast and every officer was elected by acclamation, not a single contest arising. Officers chosen for the ensuing year were:

Mrs. Jacksie Daniels Thrash, of Tarboro, president; first vice-president, Mrs. J. F. Thomson, of Gastonia; second vice-president, Mrs. R. L. Ryburn, of Shelby; third vice-president, Mrs. J. Q. Gilmey, of Marion; recording secretary, Mrs. W. M. Creasy, of Wilmington, re-elected; corresponding secretary, Miss Mary Powell, of Tarboro; treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Pless, of Marion; recorder of crosses, Mrs. B. L. Tyree, of Durham; registrar, Mrs. Herbert McCullers, of Clayton; historian, Mrs. J. A. Fore, of Charlotte; chaplain, Mrs. B. H. Griffin, of Raleigh; director of children's chapters, Mrs. R. Phillip Holt, of Rocky Mount.

Mrs. Thomas L. Craig was nominted for president but declined to let her name go before the convention, very graciously seconding the nomination of Mrs. Thrash.

Mr. Ricks Thanked.

Miss Jessica Smith, of Louisburg, custodian of scrap books, introduced the following motion at the afternoon session which was unanimously adopted:

"In appreciation of the handsome monument being erected by R. H. Ricks, one of the Bethel heroes, in memory of his Nash county comrades of the Confederate States army, and also for his wonderful gift of $25,000 for the research work of North Carolina Confederate history, I move that this convention go on record as endorsing these generous and patriotic gifts and that a letter be written by the corresponding secretary to Mr. Ricks to this effect."

Immediately upon the passage of this resolution Miss Rutherford, historian general, of Athens, made a most enthusiastic talk in which she said:

"I think that a wonderful advance in our work. Hurrah for North Carolina! She is ahead of Georgia. Oh, if we had men in each state who felt inspired to preserve our Southern history, what progress we could make! You certainly are fortunate. Let the good work go on. I am going back to Georgia and get them to do the same thing."

Women's Home.

At this morning's session Mrs. Hunter Smith, of Fayetteville, chairman of the committee in charge, made her annual report on the Confederate Women's Home. There are 21 inmates now and others are to be taken in at once. Considerable improvements have been made at the home during the year and everything is running along smoothly.

Mrs. A. M. Williams presented to the convention today copies of the charter applications of every chapter organized in the history of the State. North Carolina, she stated, has the record of being the only State that has held every charter granted to a chapter in its history. The new management of the Soldiers' Home, at Raleigh, was highly complimented and endorsed.

Portrait of Mrs. Parsley.

Tonight historical evening was observed, the principal speaker being Miss Mildred Rutherford, of Athens, Georgia, historian general. She spoke to a large audience. Other features of tonight's programme were the unveiling of a portrait of Mrs. W. M. Parsley, presentation of the William Watson banner to the Children of the Confederacy, reading of the prize report and a special musical programme.

At 1:30 today the delegates were guests of the business and professional men of the city at a luncheon at the Armington Hotel.

UNIVERSITY RECOVERS LONG LOST BRASS PLATE

Commemorates Laying of First Cornerstone in 1793.

Was Sold for Junk in Clarksville, Tenn., and About to be Thrust Into Melting Pot, When It Attracted Attention.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 12.—The long arm of coincidence, assisted by State and college pride, has led to the recovery and restoration to the University of North Carolina today, on its 123rd birthday, of the plate commemorating the laying of its corner stone, which is the corner stone of the oldest building of the oldest state University in America.

Grand Master A. B. Andrews, of the North Carolina Masons, today presented to the University the bronze plate which was placed in the cornerstone of what is now the Old East Building on October 12, 1793, by the then grand master, William R. Davie, whose name is in other ways inseparably connected with the University.

The events leading to the strange recovery of the corner stone plate have to be clearly straightened out, but they are of remarkable interest. Steps in the recovery of the plate have followed each other in rapid order during the past week until today it became possible to return the plate to the University on the anniversary of its first being placed there. The plate is of bronze, one-eighth inch in thickness, five and a quarter inches wide and seven and a half inches long. It was originally enclosed in the corner-stone, but is supposed to have disappeared soon after the Civil War, 1865-1875, when the University was closed for a while, and nothing has been heard of it until its almost miraculous rescue a few days ago. Still more striking is the fact that it should have fallen into the hands of two University alumni who through love for alma mater arranged for its restoration.

On October 4 an article by Rev. A. R. Shaw, class of '82, in the Charlotte Observer, called attention to the fact—as did an editorial in the same paper—that a plate had been found near his home in Clarksville, Tenn., which should be of much interest to North Carolinians. He at the same time sent the inscription thereon. Grand Master Andrews got in immediate touch with Dr. Shaw and through him with Mr. Thomas B. Foust, president of the Clarksville Foundry & Machine Works, where the plate was found. Mr. Foust, of the University class of 1903, telegraphed President Graham at once concerning the plate, stating that he was sending the plate to Mr. Andrews for presentation to the University on October 12th.

In a most interesting letter Mr. Foust makes known the following facts associated with the recovery after so long a time. "Some days ago the foreman in my foundry stopped me as I was passing through and said 'here is a plate that looks like it might be valuable and I think I will keep it.' He was using it to hold the smooth surface of a mold to assist in finishing with his moulder's trowel.

"As he handed it to me the name of William R. Davie caught my eye, and after a little further examination, for it was so dirty and tarnished that it was almost illegible, I saw that it must be linked with the history of the University and at once carried it to a laboratory where we cleaned it sufficiently to make it entirely legible.

"The plate came into my possession along with a lot of scrap brass which was bought from one of the local junk dealers and was intended for melting into various brass castings. From what sources it came into the possession of the junk dealer I have been unable to learn, as he advises me that he has no recollection of having noticed the same; and it is passing strange that it should have fallen into my hands when it had come so near to the melting pot.

"This was shown to some of the professors at the Southwestern Presbyterian University of this city." Thus Dr. Shaw was led to interest himself in it.

THEATRICAL

All roads, all streets and all sidewalks lead to the Bijou today. For today sees the first presentation to Wilmington amusement lovers of that far-famed serial superior, "The Shielding Shadow," the first serial which the makers came out in the open and charged double prices for, simply on its strength, and with all that breaking all booking records with it.

Greater than "The Iron Claw", the greatest by far of all previous Pathe serials, is the guarantee for this serial, and upon this guarantee was it booked by the Bijou and on that same guarantee it is today presented to their patrons. Leon Barry, one of the greatest, most fascinating villains ever seen on a screen; Grace Darmond, the pretty, vivacious "thrill girl"; Ralph Kellard, the dashingest hero who ever was shown in a serial, and many other masterful stars, go to make this serial greater than all the others.

Blood-chilling adventure and plotting and chivalry of the finest, rub elbows throughout the episode with mysteries vastly more subtly puzzling than the screen has ever before flashed. Film realism reaches its utmost heights, mystery its profound depths in this great serial, "The Shielding Shadow". Produced by the joint work of the producers of "The Iron Claw," "The Perils of Pauline," and many other successes, written by the same author, and starring this great cast of stars, it is only Biograph makes them and stars Charles H. Mails, Vera Sisson and G. Raymond Nye.

Triangle Day at Royal.

Today the Royal presents the greatest Triangle feature of the year—not excepting the great Billie Burke creation of "Peggy", as it today presents that fascinating and bewitching little screen star, Dorothy Gish, co-starring with handsome Owen Moore in a great five-act David W. Griffith Fine Arts production, "Susan Rocks the Boat," those two presenting a picture that will go straight to the hearts of every patron of the house, a picture on the idleness of the rich young girls of today.

Like all Fine Arts productions, this picture is possessed of a genuine dramatic idea, which is: that the present state of society produces "sweet young things," who imagine that they can become reformers, although they are entirely ignorant of the perils into which they may fall in doing so.

Fascinating little Dorothy Gish is cast in such a character. Inspired to become a modern Joan of Arc, Susan opens a settlement house and tries to uplift the people of the slums. She is only rescued from her ultimate doom by Larry O'Neill, a young man of the slums, played by Owen Moore in his usual dashing manner. The upshot is that Larry and Susan find that they love each other.

Continuity and suspense those prime favorites with Griffith, find ready expression in this great feature and the picture is fully equipped and should be seen by capacity crowds today.

DOROTHY GISH AND CLYDE HOPKINS, IN A SCENE FROM THE NEW TRIANGLE PLAY. "SUSAN ROCKS THE BOAT."

bound to score a triumph rivaling any past screen production.

And today also at the Bijou you get the latest great two-reel Triangle-Keystone comedy scream, "Bathtub Perils," starring Fred Mace and all the old Keystone bunch.

"The Grip of Evil," Today

The great Pathe serial, "The Grip of Evil," still continues to draw capacity crowds at the Grand and there are many who consider it one of the most entertaining of all serials ever presented there. Jackie Saunders, "The Maude Adams of the screen," with Roland Bottomly, one of the most dashing of the young leading men on the screen, acquitted themselves creditably in every chapter, and as it rapidly draws to a grand finale, each chapter is getting more and more thrilling and full of live, electric action.

In today's chapter "Down to the Sea," Roland Bottomly, still in pursuit of the eternal question, "Is humanity in the grip of evil?" finds new evidences that it is. He is very rapidly coming to the conclusion that he has proven his contention that all humanity is getting worse from the fact that it is in the grip of evil. Do you agree with him? Whether or not you do, it is thoroughly enjoyable and interesting to see the question argued in this great serial, and of course, you want to see the grand finale.

There is another feature at the Grand today besides "The Grip of Evil". It is one of those famous two-reel Biograph reissues, this one entitled "The Avenging Shot", a drama full of thrills as

New Bill at Victoria.

Another "greater than ever" new bill goes on at the Victoria today when the Winter Garden Girls Company present their great bill of the week, "The Suffragette General," a rare and racy musical comedy production full of new laughs, new song hits, nifty dancing numbers, and the funniest of all roles for that inimitable blackface comedy king, Jack Grant.

Miss Lola Vann in the title role as "the suffragette general," with Miss Hurley as corporal, Jack Grant as "Don Es Camilo" and Ralph Smith as "Capt. Bunkemsmith," fulfill all expectations in their respective roles and furnish you with an hour of such high class entertainment as you seldom fall heir to. A gay galaxy of "suffragette privates" include the pretty girls of the company in nifty and extraordinary costumes, something entirely different from anything previously seen this season, or any other season, for that matter.

Musical and specialty numbers fall thick and fast on this new programme, beginning with "Wake Up America," a dashing patriotic song; "Chinatown," then a big dancing specialty by Ralph and Sue Smith, "Robinson Cruso", and then Jack Grant in his great dancing novelty, something new and entirely different from the others seen this week, with two or three other big song numbers following.

It's a show guaranteed to please.

IMPORTANT LAW SUIT NOW IN ONSLOW COURT

Involves Vast Area of Timber Lands in Two Counties.

Court in Session at Jacksonville—Candidates of Both Parties Canvassing County—Road Bond Election Carried.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Jacksonville, N. C., Oct. 12.—What is considered to be one of the most important law suits ever brought in this county and involving doubtless the largest sum is now in court. The case is that of Royal C. Remick against Jesse C. Foster and wife, Alice M. Foster, Howard Reifonysnyder, Lizzie A. Lukens, Harry Stewart and wife, Carrie A. Stewart, Edgar H. Porter and wife, Nellie Porter, J. Harper Dripps, Dill-Cramer-Truitt Corporation, Jordan & Davis Company and John L. Roper Lumber Company. The suit affects a vast area of timber lands in Onslow and Pender counties which was purchased by the plaintiff and defendant, J. C. Foster, several years ago.

The plaintiff alleges that the defendant Foster did not fill his part of the contract and sued for seventy thousand dollars as his part of the profits accruing from the purchase of the timbers and land. The case was referred to O. H. Guion, Esq., of New Bern, and his report has just been filed. He allows the plaintiff the sum of forty-one thousand dollars. Each of the defendants has filed exceptions to the report of the referee. The plaintiff is represented by Thos. W. Davis, Esq., of Wilmington, and Rodolph Duffy, Esq., of this place, while Messrs. G. V. Cowper, of Kinston, L. R. Varser, of Lumberton, H. McClammy, of Wilmington, and Frank Thompson, of this place, appear for the defendants.

Republican and Democratic aspirants for county offices are making a canvass of the county, and from reports the speakers are having good crowds to hear them. Last week was spent in Swansboro and Stump Sound townships, while Richlands and White Oak township voters will be enlightened as to county affairs next week. The Republicans base their claims on high taxes and Democratic extravagance while the Democrats rebut this with the argument that extravagance should not be pleaded in the face of what the Republicans did in fusion days, and the fact that now in this county there is a school house on every hilltop, and over ten graded schools, and two State high schools while under Republican State rule there was absolutely no school system. The canvass is proving interesting. Representing the Democrats are: For sheriff, E. H. Walton; for register of deeds, F. T. Yopp; for house of representatives, H. V. Grant. Republicans: For sheriff, W. H. Hurst; for register of deeds, W. I. Taylor; for house of representatives, Borden Farnell.

The news that Richlands township had Tuesday carried the bond election for good roads was received here with much interest. The election in that township was watched with interest by local citizens. There was a hard fight against the issue in certain sections of the township, but the progressive forces won out by fifty-five majority. The carrying of this election means that in the course of a short while Richlands will build a good road to the Jacksonville-Richlands township boundary, connecting with the good roads leading from this place to that point completing what will be known as the Richlands-Jacksonville highway, of which the citizens may well feel proud. A move on foot in White Oak township, it is believed, will terminate in that township calling an election and carrying an issue of bonds.

Onslow Superior court is in session here this week with Judge W. A. Devin presiding and Solicitor H. E. Shaw representing the State. The grand jury, of which John Williams was foreman, filed their report yesterday, and their report was to the effect that the offices were well kept the jail was in sanitary condition, county bridge in fair condition, but found that certain Supreme Court reports in the clerk's office should be rebound. As has been the case for the past twelve years, the report recommended that the commissioners build a county home.

Will Justice Dead.

Will Justice, one of Jacksonville's most prominent young men ,died this morning at 7:30 o'clock after an illness of three weeks. While there was naturally hope for his recovery, it was seen by physician and nurse that his chances were weak and his death was no surprise. Mr. Justice was 27 years of age, and leaves a wife and three children. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Justice, of this town, and his friends were legion.

That Onslow county must not only not decrease the Democratic majority but increase the same seems to be the wishes of local Democratic leaders. If they have left any stone unturned so far as securing good speakers for the county goes it cannot be seen. Already such spellbinders as Hon. H. S. Ward, D. E. Henderson, N. A. Sinclair, and others have made speeches in the county. During his stay here this week, Solicitor Henry E. Shaw, of Kinston, goes out to some school house each evening and makes a Democratic address. Hon. Walter E. Brock was here Tuesday in the interest of the cause.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

A Few Applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur Brings Back Its Vigor, Color, Gloss and Youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a 50-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

COMMISSIONERS MAY ACT

Brunswick Board Considering Cattle Tick Situation—Two Bridges Paid for.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Southport, N. C., Oct. 12.—The matter of the cattle tick eradication is receiving serious consideration among the farmers of Brunswick county, and the subject was brought before the commissioners at their meeting this week, the various features, the demand for the eradication of the tick, and the probable cost of building tanks in the different townships, and what the majority sentiment might be in this matter.

The commissioners felt that the need was apparent for action to free the cattle of the county from the tick that is so destructive to cattle values, but deeming it best to get public expression on the question, the matter was continued until November 13, when the commissioners meet, when it is expected that some determination may be arrived at.

Two important bridges were accepted and paid for at the commissioners' meeting this week, the bridge over Waldren creek, leading towards Wilmington, a part of the proposed Murchison Memorial Highway; and the bridge crossing Middle Swamp, making the connection between this place and Bolivia, this crossing being a hard one in periods of wet weather.

HON. J. W. BAILEY STIRS ONSLOW COUNTY VOTERS

They Think They Never Heard a More Masterly Speech.

Speech of Collector of Internal Revenue Frequently Interrupted by Prolonged Applause at Jacksonville—Butler Controls.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Jacksonville, N. C., Oct. 12.—Hon. J. W. Bailey, of Raleigh, today addressed a large assemblage of Onslow county voters in the court house here. Many speeches have been heard here during the present campaign and during other campaigns, but it is the consensus of opinion that never has there been a more masterly campaign speech delivered than that today.

Mr. Bailey first referred to charges of extravagance of the Democratic party which the Republicans are using for campaign thunder and said that, of the five million dollars referred to as being spent, three million of it went to educate the boys and girls of the State and the balance in taking care of the deaf, dumb, blind and insane and other unfortunates. The speaker asked, "Would the Republicans save you money by doing away with these things?"

The speaker declared that, while certain of the Republicans claimed that Butler did not control that party in this State, yet declared Mr. Bailey, "I was in Raleigh when their convention met in May and I was in that convention and I saw Marion Butler take charge of it and throw Cy Thompson, of this county, and Carl Duncan, of Wake county, out of it and take supreme command." Here the assemblage began to applaud and his speech was interrupted several times by prolonged clapping of hands. The folks were with him and the party he represented.

Mr. Bailey declared that no people on this earth are getting free government, being well protected, their homes cared for, their health protected, their children educated, at as low cost per capita as are the people of North Carolina.

Here the speaker launched into national issues and his first reference to Woodrow Wilson was received with applause. He declared that Hughes had no issues and based his claims upon mistakes of the Democratic administration.

The speaker then explained the laws passed during the present administration that were beneficial to the common people and declared that during no period in the history of the country had as much progressive legislation been enacted as had been caused to be made during the administration of Woodrow Wilson. He defended Mr. Wilson's foreign policy and declared that, had Teddy been in power, this country now would in all probability be engulfed in war.

He declared the Federal Reserve banking system to be the greatest piece of legislation ever enacted affecting the farmer, and commended the eight-hour law, declaring that it was the saving of a great catastrophe in this Nation and the continuance of such prosperity as this country has never seen before.

At the conclusion of his speech, the speaker was congratulated and it was the undivided opinion of his hearers that, could that speech be heard by every citizen of this State, North Carolina would not only increase its majority for Democracy but for generations to come nothing but Democracy would be known.

IN SESSION IN LILLINGTON

Many Attending Meeting of Fayetteville Presbytery.

Lillington, Oct. 12.—Fayetteville Presbytery, one of the largest in the Southern Presbyterian church, is in session here. It was convened Tuesday night by Mr. A. D. McGill, retiring moderator. An unusually large number of ministers and elders are present. Rev. H. J. Wills was elected moderator after the congregation had listened to a splendid sermon by Rev. R. A. McLeod.

Yesterday was taken up with routine work, but time was found for several inspiring services. In the morning at the communion service Dr. H. G. Hill, of Maxton, the oldest minister of the Presbytery, preached a sermon of unique vigor and helpfulness. In the afternoon all things gave way for a hearing of the work and needs of Flora McDonald College. Truly every North Carolinian should be proud of this great institution situated among the Scotch people of our State.

The Presbytery will scarcely finish its work before Thursday night and judging by the program this will be one of the great meetings of this body.

PRESIDENT SCORES THE REPUBLICANS FOR THE CHARGE OF SECTIONALISM

it will be all the rest of my life a matter of pride that I was privileged to play a part in serving the farmers to be better farmers and do real business.

"A man is happy, I take it, in proportion as he accomplishes something. Some people think they are happy in proportion as they do nothing. Some people, as a witty acquaintance of mine devote themselves to expense regardless of pleasure. They do not know what pleasure is. The supreme human pleasure, it seems to me, is to do something worth doing, the way it ought to be done.

"That is the only reason I am interested in politics. * * *

"But I am intensely interested, my fellow citizens, in the politics which is going to organize this country for unparalleled efficiency in the years to come. This country has a role to play in the world which does not merely consist of feeding it, does not merely consist in furnishing it with better manufactured goods than you can get anywhere else, does not merely consist in furnishing it with coal and gold and iron and all the other priceless deposits of our wonderful continent, but it consists in supplying it with conceptions of justice and liberty, which will put breath into the lungs of every free man. I am interested in the farmer, because I want people well enough fed to do the job to the queen's taste."

U-BOAT QUESTION NOT TO COME UP IN THE REICHSTAG

a discussion of the submarine issue in his remarks, injected a tribute to Admiral von Tirpitz, and the achievements of the submarine U-53.

WAR SITUATION DISCUSSED BY LEADERS IN REICHSTAG

Berlin, Oct. 12 (via Sayville).—In his speech at the opening of yesterday's Reichstag session, Major Bassermann said:

"Our enemies tell us they have imposed upon us an order of warfare that has forced us into the defensive, when at this very time we are rejoicing over the manner in which the German spirit of the offense is winning success in the war against the Rumanians in Transylvania, in Dobrudja and on the Danube. We proudly point to the success of our navy in its victory in the Skagerrak under the glorious leadership of Admirals Hipper and Scheer. In these achievements of our navy in the success of our sailors, we recognize the spirit of the master of the German navy, Grand Admiral von Tirpitz."

The speaker pleaded for the abolition of the censorship. He said the committee had received the impression that the "military situation everywhere was satisfactory and hopeful."

Herr Naumann, the radical leader, alluded to the Teutonic victories in Transylvania, emphasizing the comradeship of the Germans and Austro-Hungarian troops, and expressed admiration for the Turks and Bulgarians.

Herr Naumann alluded to the causes of the war, insisting that the only means of avoiding resort to arms would have been direct communication between Vienna and St. Petersburg which was rendered impossible by the continuation of the Russian mobilization. Great Britain had been able to prevent this as she recognized the dangers underlying this mobilization as was shown by the warnings of Ambassador Buchanan to Foreign Minister Sasonoff. She ought to have followed the example furnished by the German chancellor, declared the speaker, when on July 30, 1914, he declared in Vienna:

"We refuse to let ourselves be drawn into a world war because our allies disregard our suggestions."

Great Britain has not only left the saving word unspoken, added Herr Naumann, but had encouraged Russia by assuring her of British help under all circumstances.

The budget committee in making its report said:

"The result of the last war loan proved once more the firm trust of our nation. Our armed forces and our people stand firmly united in the war of defence forced upon us."

Dr. Peter Spahn, leader of the Catholic party, objected against the seizure of the Palazzo Venezia, the former seat of the Austro-Hungarian embassy in Rome, by the Italian government. Dr. Spahn described the action of Italy as "a hostile act, against the pope and an attack against the Holy See."

Philipp Scheidemann, the Socialist leader, pointed out the vitality of the German nation as shown in the present war, criticised the censorship and condemned the measures taken by the authorities for the distribution of food.

"Chances for peace today are poor," Herr Scheidemann declared. "Since Briand and Lloyd George preached war until the bitter end, the chancellor is unable to talk peace. But we are free to do so. The nations want peace. If the contrary be said in any country, then it is absolutely nutrue.

"The French nation is kept ignorant by censorial prohibition of the fact that it could see its country as well as Belgium still free today of German troops without shedding one more drop of blood and without losing one more square foot of soil. What do these nations still fight for? That the French shall stay in France. That the Belgians shall stay in Belgium. That the Germans shall stay in Germany. This is the main basis upon which the coming peace will be constructed.

"Distress reigns in all countries. Prices in English markets speak a clear language. Bread in England is dearer than it is with us. More than 1,000,000 children in England are under-fed, so greatly that they are unable to follow instructions in the schools. From France the most pitiful complaints are heard. Italy suffers from famine alreay. Russia had better not be mentioned."

Count Westarp, the conservative leader, stated that the objects of the war as proclaimed by the Socialist party were acceptable to him.

"We must have territorial integrity, political independence and free economic evolution for Germany," declared Count Westarp. He then protested against Herr Scheidemann's declaration that the French could have peace without losing one square foot of territory.

"No," the conservative leader declared. "What we have conquered at the cost of our blood, we will hold as long as necessary in order to assure the security of the German nation."

DR. PENDLETON AT TRINITY

Delivers Address on "Insanity: Its Causes and Prevention."

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Trinity College, Oct. 12.—Dr. Arthur Pendleton, of the State Hospital staff, was the speaker recently to a large Trinity audience on the subject of "Insanity: Its Causes and Prevention." The lecture was delivered in the lecture room of the Crowell Science hall under the auspices of the Science Club. Dr. Pendleton is one of several men who are carrying on a State-wide campaign for the prevention of insanity. The lecturer spoke in non-technical terms and reached some very vital subjects of equal interest in a college or a community. He discussed personal hygiene and gave some really instructive suggestions concerning the education of the undeveloped mind.

convention today by the joint commission on matrimony, of which Joseph B. Cheshire, of Raleigh, bishop of North Carolina, is chairman.

The commission recommended that, where it is claimed a divorce has been granted for causes arising before marriage and satisfactory evidence is presented, a decree, "being in fact a decree of annulment" is no bar to the marriage of either party.

The present canon of the church permits a minister to perform the ceremony in the case of the marriage of the innocent party to a divorce granted on statutory grounds, providing the clergyman has received the consent of his bishop.

The commission recommended also that the refusal of the church to bless and solemnize a marriage need not be followed by a permanent exclusion from the sacraments.

SEVEN NEGRO "CONSPIRATORS" CONVICTED IN BRUNSWICK COURT

Trial of Navassa "Near Riot" Case at Southport This Week.

(Specia lStar Correspondent.)

Southport, N. C., October 12. — One of the important criminal cases at the present term of court, that of seven colored men being charged with "conspiracy," the act taking place last April, at Navassa, this county, a case that caused considerable local excitement at the time, has been tried and after being out a short time the jury found a verdict of guilty.

The act charged in the indictment grew out of the shooting of a colored man, named Lewis by a white man, named Skipper, the conspiracy developing from the shooting, as testified. Sentence has not been pronounced.

The negroes mentioned were indicted in connection with near riot at Navassa last spring, when Deputy Sheriff Skipper, of Brunswick county, attempted to arrest a negro. There was a crowd of about 200 negroes, many of them drunk, who made so much trouble that the officer took refuge in a house there and phoned to Sheriff Cowan, of Wilmington, for assistance. Sheriff Cowan organized a posse and went to the rescue of the officer.

The leaders in the near-riot are said to have fled to parts unknown, and for that reason Judge Connor is not expected to administer any severe punishment on those convicted.

Deputy Sheriff C. H. Keen, of Wilmington, testified as a witness in the case. Sherff Cowan and Mr. Owen C. Fillyaw were summoned as witnesses, but were not called to testify.
